Ohio Senate Ready To Take Up First Bills

600 Measures Face Legislators in General Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate plans to get its gears meshed this week and start acting on some of the nearly 600 bills already in the hopper of the 105th General Assembly.

Aside from a couple of routine bills early in the session, the Senate has acted on nothing in its first seven weeks. Both houses start their eighth work week tonight.

The Senate has little key legislation to act upon, but Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, is anxious to get going.

The House has passed about a dozen bills, none of great significance.

Most of the legislative work up until now has been done in committees. Those committees must approve legislative proposals before they come to a vote on the floor of either house.

Hearings on pending bills will continue to be the first order of business in the legislature this week and for many weeks to come.

Administration bills sponsored by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes will continue to hold the center of the stage, including measures to set up a job-producing development authority, Golden-Age villages for the non-psychotic aged in Ohio's mental hospitals and a youth commission.

Expected to come out of the House Judiciary Committee this week is a bill to set up new standards for Sunday sales of merchandise to replace the present so-called blue laws.

A vote on the new measure this week, however, is unlikely.

One of the first major bills which may appear on the Senate calendar is the measure to change the present four-member Liquor Board to a three-member liquor control commission.

The stripped-down version of the change sought by Rhodes was recommended for passage last Wednesday by the Senate Liquor Committee. Asked if he is happy with the considerably altered bill, Rhodes replied:

"I'm happy with the bill because it creates a new organization. The details of the changes have no effect on the over-all program."

Ohio Guards Given Dates For Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More summer training dates and sites now have been confirmed for Ohio's National Guardsmen the Adjutant General's Department says.

One of the largest groups, the 37th Infantry Division of Ohio's Army National Guard, will go to Camp Grayling, Mich., Aug. 4-18, Adj. Gen. Erwin C. Hostetler has announced.

In the Air Guard, it now has been decided that the 180th Tactical Fighter Group will train at home at Toledo Express Airport June 15-29, the same dates that 121st Tactical Fighter Wing units at Mansfield, Columbus and Springfield also will train at home stations.

The 555th Band, Toledo, will train with the 121st Wing at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, Brig. Gen. Frederick P. Wenger, assistant adjutant general for air, said.

Wenger said the 160th Air Refueling Group at Wilmington will remain at Clinton County Air Force Base July 13-27, while the 251st Communications Group from Springfield and Zanesville will train during the same period at Scott AFB, Ill.; Camp Atterbury, Ind., and other sites.

Dates and a site for the 123rd Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron from Blue Ash near Cincinnati haven't been determined, he said. During training, some aircraft from Ohio may be deployed briefly elsewhere, Wenger added.

COLLIDES WITH TREE—The driver of this auto, Shelby L. Cupps, 26, of 560 E. Franklin St., Saturday failed to negotiate a curve on Route 23, about eight miles north of Circleville. The car went off the right side of the highway and crashed head-on into a tree. According to the State Highway Patrol, Cupps was admitted to Berger Hospital with a fractured pelvis and a dislocated hip.

Italians, Dutch Strike at France

BRUSSELS (AP)—Italy and the Netherlands took the lead today in striking back at France as the ruling body of the European Common Market gathered for the first time since the French vetoed Britain's entry into the group.

Both the Italians and Dutch made plain that they would not sign a new treaty for trade and aid with 18 African states, all but two of them former French colonies.

The delay means that for another year at least Frenchmen will have to pay higher prices for African coffee and African bananas, among other things.

Under the new agreement, aid to African producers from a six-nation $730-million fund would have taken the place of subsidies France has paid. The fund is also to help the Africans develop new crops and industries.

The Common Market Council of Ministers is meeting for a two-day session in an atmosphere tense with resentments. The other five members—West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—are angry with the French for backbiting Britain. The French feel that the others are ganging up on them.

The African treaty was to have been signed this week at Yaounde, Cameroon. Now it seems likely to be deferred at least until the end of May. By that time Italy and The Netherlands will have elected new parliaments.

Informed sources said deferment of the agreement angered French representative Jean Marc Boegner, who said "This will be unfortunate for the Common Market."

The African treaty is close to the hearts of the French because it would tie the whole former French empire in Africa to the Common Market. The other European nations do not oppose it but they want to show their annoyance with the French.

Lima Mother May Deliver Quadruplets

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A 26-year-old Lima woman mother of youngsters 1, 2 and 3 years old, soon may give birth to quadruplets, the Lima Citizen says in a copyrighted story.

She is Mrs. Barbara Axe, wife of the newspaper's advertising promotion manager, Philip Axe, 28. The Citizen's story, by staff writer Hope Strong, says Mrs. Axe is in her seventh month of pregnancy and "X-rays prove there are four perfectly formed human beings in a diamond position."

The Axes have been married four years. Their other children are Cathy, 3; Chuck, 2, and Timmy, 1.

Mrs. Axe, a graduate of Lima St. Rita's Hospital school of nursing, says she is feeling fine. However, the obstetrician has advised rest, complete quiet and few visitors.

Relatives are taking care of the three Axe children at present.

Giving birth to four occurs once in about 750,000 births.

$240 Million Loan OK For India Development

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today made the largest development loan in the history of its foreign aid program—$240 million to India.

Its purpose: to help India finance imports of priority goods. No military aid is involved. The entire amount will be spent in the United States.

The only larger U.S. loan was for $322.7 million. It was to Britain in 1948. It was for reconstruction, not development.

Rising Local Taxes To Hurt Kennedy Plan

Federal Cutback May Be Nibbled By Other Revenue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rising state, local and Social Security taxes may nibble away a large chunk—possibly half—of President Kennedy's proposed tax cuts by the time they would take effect.

The $2.2-billion increase in Social Security rates on Jan. 1 and the $500-million hike in postal rates on Jan. 7 will offset most of the $3.1 billion in individual and corporate tax savings proposed by Kennedy for 1963.

With most of the 47 state legislatures meeting this year considering tax increases totaling perhaps $2.5 billion, much of the $3.2-billion reduction envisaged in the Kennedy program for 1964 would be wiped out.

Not all the legislatures are expected to raise taxes but it's true that a four-year cycle of such action has developed, and 1963 is the year for it. Thirty-three states raised taxes in 1959.

Three other factors will be working, tax experts report, to dilute the income-boosting, investment-stimulating and job-creating benefits of Kennedy's net $10.3 billion, three-year tax reduction.

1. Part of the taxpayers' savings would be picked up automatically by the 19 states whose taxpayers can deduct federal income taxes from their taxable income. In these states a cut in federal taxes means more income would be subject to state tax.

2. In 13 states whose tax systems are tied to the federal system, the laws require that citizens compute their taxable income on about the same basis as they do for the federal income tax. The revenue-boosting reforms which Kennedy seeks—including curtailed personal deductions—would become part of these state systems, unless the state rules are changed. The federal rate cuts would not necessarily be carried over into the state systems, so state tax liability would be increased.

3. Cities and other local governments not only are pressing state legislatures to raise taxes and funnel more revenue to the cities, but many are considering new taxes of their own.

Pittsburgh wants the Pennsylvania Legislature to let the city levy a 1 per cent income tax on non-residents who work in Pittsburgh. St. Paul has been weighing a 1 per cent income tax if the Minnesota Legislature does not enact a state sales tax to be shared with the cities. Buffalo, N.Y., has asked legislation enabling it to levy a 1 per cent payroll tax.

Only three states raised taxes in 1962—Michigan, Mississippi and New Mexico—but state and local government costs went on rising almost everywhere. In many cases the feasible limit of borrowing has been reached.

A survey made by the Tax Foundation, Inc., New York, a privately supported, non-profit research organization, indicated that by early January revenue—

Eastern U.S. Blanketed by New Snowfall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light snow fell across sections in the eastern half of the nation today and cold weather clung to northern Midwest areas.

The snow belt extended from the northern Plains eastward into the Ohio Valley and appeared headed for the middle and north Atlantic regions. Two inches of snow fell in a six-hour period in Springfield and Peoria, Ill. Snow flurries powdered areas in northern Kentucky.

Subzero cold again was reported in northern Minnesota and sections of the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Michigan. Temperatures were nearly 20 degrees below zero in Pellston, Mich., and International Falls, Minn. Generally clear and cold weather prevailed in upstate New York, with temperatures ranging from 15 in Poughkeepsie to zero in Watertown.

Temperatures were in the 50s or higher in most of Florida and from much of Texas into the Southwest desert region. Readings were in the 20s and 30s in most other parts of the country.

Skies cleared in most of the Southeast in the wake of heavy rains and strong winds in the south Atlantic and Gulf states.

JFK Wants $10 Billion Tax Relief This Year

Schools Report Decline in Absenteeism

Measles and Mumps Responsible for Many Illness Cases

Illness in both Circleville and Pickaway County schools were on the decline today, according to an attendance report by school heads.

Circleville city schools showed a decrease of 119 from Friday's count of 686 absentees. Four more teachers returned to classes today, with 14 still on the sick list.

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs said all city schools showed an improvement with the exception of Nicholas Drive which stayed the same as Friday with 43 absent.

George McDowell, county superintendent, said a marked improvement in county schools was evident, with the Williamsport area a hardest hit. Friday 67 students were on the absentee list. Figures were not available today.

MEASLES and mumps seem to be responsible for many cases of illness, school heads noted, although influenza is the major cause of sickness at this time.

Superintendent Jacobs also reported that four bus drivers were on the sick list. However certified substitute drivers were available and no difficulties were encountered.

Southern Ohio Making Most Flu Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Asian flu culture has been grown in the State Health Department laboratory from a throat swabbing made in Muskingum County.

Dr. Winslow J. Bashe, chief of disease division said this makes five Asian flu cultures grown from specimens taken. The others were in Columbus (three) and Cincinnati.

Southern Ohio continues to make the most influenza reports, although many probably are not the Asian type, Bashe said. But he added that more reports have been coming from northern Ohio in recent days "because this thing skips around after 10 days to two weeks in one area."

Cleveland's health commissioner, Dr. J. Glen Smith, reported on the basis of figures through last Friday that respiratory illness is on the rise in Cleveland. The type is unconfirmed, except that it is influenza-like.

Only 84 cases of influenza have been reported in Cleveland so far this year. In Cincinnati, flu appears to be on the wane.

Once Around Roundtown

Pickaway County Clerk of Courts office today reminded motorists to check their certificates of title or "white memorandum" copies before 1963 auto tags go on sale this Friday.

The clerk's office noted that a "Lot of time and trouble" can be avoided if this is done in advance.

Car owners who have out-of-state titles should apply for an Ohio title two weeks in advance of attempting to purchase '63 tags since a period of 10-15 days is needed to process the title application.

4 Die in Road Mishaps

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's motorists have been a cautious breed last weekend. They killed only four persons on the highways.

New Heating Units Eyed at Infirmary

The high cost of maintaining an aged heating system at the Pickaway County Infirmary drew close study today from the County Board of Commissioners.

Steps leading toward replacement of the present system, labeled inadequate and far too costly to service by the Commission, formed a basis for discussion. A current alternative is to install four gas furnaces and close off the old unit.

Presenting the Commission with a sketch of the four-furnace plan was Bill Dixon, representing Hanings, Inc. of Circleville and Lancaster.

The Commission, taking no official action on the proposal by noon today, indicated they would confer with Prosecutor Robert H. Huffer concerning legality of bidding for the new facilities.

DIXON said the new furnaces would cost in the neighborhood of $900 each. He advised they could be installed one per month until the project is completed.

Commission Chairman Clyde Michel and members Lloyd McElvin and Wayne Hines concurred that the present heating system is costing too much to keep the unit operating. One of the bills approved today was for payment of $664 for repairs.

Michel said lines clogged with lime, poor circulation and other deficiencies have caused repeated boiler cracks. The old unit has broken down at regular intervals the past three years—and several times this year.

Dixon said the new gas furnaces could be installed in the basement of the old folks home, two in each wing. He said proper sealing of specified areas and adequate installation would provide controlled heating, something the infirmary lacks at the present time.

The new furnaces would be 160-000 British Thermal Units each. Dixon indicated they would adequately heat the building, and also noted that no regular fireman would be needed.

The Commissioners were unable to determine just how old the present heating system is. They said its present poor state and constant demand for repair place it in the "ancient" category.

IN OTHER business the Commission turned down a request by Civil Defense Director Harry Timmons asking for the necessary funds to purchase two radios to set up a base station here.

Michel said the money is not available at this time. However, the Board authorized Timmons to utilize money already on hand.

The Civil Defense director said

Churchmen Chided for Their Apology

CLEVELAND (AP)—A leading Protestant theologian told lay leaders of the United Church of Christ at an assembly here "it is time that the people of our churches are discouraged from apologizing for being people of God."

The speaker was Dr. Allen O. Miller, professor of systematic theology and philosophy at Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo. The assembly, which ended Sunday, was sponsored by the Council for Lay Life and Work of the United Church of Christ.

Declaring that the Biblical origin of the word "layman" and its meaning must be re-discovered, Dr. Miller said laity "are the people of God. What greater badge of honor is there?"

Another speaker was Helen Huntington Smith of Cleveland, executive secretary of the Council for Lay Life and Work and the first woman to head a major national board of a Protestant denomination.

The purpose of the council, Miss Smith said "is to assist all men and women in the church to grow to full stature as mature Christians."

Critics Rapped By U.S. Chief

President Would OK Shelving Law Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy made it clear today that he wants Congress to vote a tax cut of at least $10 billion this year—even if it abandons the tax revisions he has proposed.

Addressing an economic growth symposium sponsored by the American Bankers Association, Kennedy said that Congress might conclude that a straight cut in tax rates without revisions would be simplest and best.

The President strongly indicated that he would not balk at such a turn of events.

"The first priority is a bill," he said.

In fact, Kennedy said, Congress might decide on a tax rate cut of $13 billion.

He indicated such a move would be acceptable.

"If we're going to err," he said, "I would certainly err on the side of a big enough tax cut."

At another point, he said "If we're going to do this, we might as well do it right or not at all."

All these remarks came during an unscheduled question and answer session following a major address in which Kennedy used blunt words to reply to critics of his tax cut package.

The ABA symposium coincided with the 100th anniversary of the founding of the national banking system.

To mark the anniversary, Kennedy proclaimed 1963 as "The centennial of the commercial banking system."

In his prepared remarks, Kennedy said critics of his tax proposals have an obligation to offer positive alternatives.

The President said his proposal would promote the kind of economic growth that could add $5,000 to the income of the average American family during the next 10 years. That would be an average annual earnings increase of $500 a family.

Raul Castro Admits Cuba Has Troubles

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's brother Raul admits that Cubans would be starving if it were not for aid from the Soviet Union.

"There are difficulties in our country," he said in a ceremony Saturday night commemorating the 45th anniversary of the Soviet army.

Just what aid the food-short Soviet Union is ending was not disclosed.

The younger Castro also announced that citizens of Havana would go on clothes rationing today. This indicated a drastic shortage of cotton and other lightweight clothing.

Dirksen Says 4 Yanks Killed In 1961 Invasion of Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said today he has uncovered evidence that four American fliers were killed in the abortive 1961 invasion of Cuba.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he has completed a one-man inquiry into the Bay of Pigs disaster and is ready to turn his findings over to Senate investigators.

Other than to report the belief that four American lives were lost, he declined to discuss the evidence he has assembled. Some of it came from participants in the invasion and some from U.S. military personnel in the area at the time.

The Republican leader said the four fliers were shot down in invasion planes which did not carry U.S. markings. Presumably they were in B26 bombers downed by jet trainers inherited by Fidel Castro from the overthrown Batista regime.

News stories at the time mentioned that one U.S. civilian flier might have been shot down. This report later was labeled erroneous.

Dirksen said he plans to discuss his findings with Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate's Preparedness subcommittee.

A subcommittee inquiry into the military strength of Soviet-dominated Cuba is expected to get under way this week. Stennis has indicated he regards the 1961 invasion as "spilled milk" to which the group would not be justified in devoting much time at this point, Dirksen disagreed.

"It seems to me it becomes a matter of some importance when even four American lives are lost," he said.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., contended on a television program Sunday that he and other Republicans had warned in advance what would happen in the Bay of Pigs. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., who appeared on the program with Scott, said his colleague was engaging in "Monday morning quarterbacking."

"All of your talk about the Bay of Pigs was after the event," he told Scott.

The bill does only two things.

Paul Credited With Only 4 Of Epistles

LONDON (AP)—Two researchers using an electronic computer have decided that St. Paul was the author of only four of the 14 Pauline epistles in the New Testament.

Scientific evidence for their thesis is to be published next month by Dr. G. H. C. MacGregor, professor of Bible criticism at Glasgow University, and the Rev. A. Morton, a minister at Culross Abbey, Fife.

Together they programmed the computer with a quarter of a million words of Greek prose and analyzed the results of a stylistic study of the epistles and work by other Greek authors.

Morton told a newsman: "The results are convincing. The work is based on the principle that authors have certain habits of style deeply ingrained. For the present study we have considered such things as the space between the uses of the word 'and,' repetitive uses of the word, sentences beginning with the word and so on."

Morton said their paper will present for the first time scientific evidence in support of the theory that only four of the epistles—Romans, First and Second Corinthians, and Galatians—were written by St. Paul.

"We have reached no final conclusion on the very short (358 word) Philemon epistle, but there is no reason to argue he did not write it. The stylistic differences between these epistles and the others is great," he said.

Both Strike Sides Rapped by Rabbi

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver says the key factors in prolonging Cleveland's 88-day-old newspaper strike are irresponsible union leadership and an uncompromising management.

In his Sunday morning sermon at the Temple, Rabbi Silver struck at both sides for what he called their lack of wisdom and statesmanship.

"I am afraid that the Cleveland newspaper strike has lasted so long because there has been too little of reasonableness on either side," he said. "There has been a measure of justice on both sides, but not enough of wisdom and statesmanship on either side."

Rising Local Taxes To Hurt Kennedy Plan

Federal Cutback May Be Nibbled By Other Revenue

Pickaway County Clerk of Courts office today reminded motorists to check their certificates of title or "white memorandum" copies before 1963 auto tags go on sale this Friday.

The clerk's office noted that a "Lot of time and trouble" can be avoided if this is done in advance.

Car owners who have out-of-state titles should apply for an Ohio title two weeks in advance of attempting to purchase '63 tags since a period of 10-15 days is needed to process the title application.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's motorists have been a cautious breed last weekend. They killed only four persons on the highways.

New Heating Units Eyed at Infirmary

The high cost of maintaining an aged heating system at the Pickaway County Infirmary drew close study today from the County Board of Commissioners.

Steps leading toward replacement of the present system, labeled inadequate and far too costly to service by the Commission, formed a basis for discussion. A current alternative is to install four gas furnaces and close off the old unit.

Presenting the Commission with a sketch of the four-furnace plan was Bill Dixon, representing Hanings, Inc. of Circleville and Lancaster.

The Commission, taking no official action on the proposal by noon today, indicated they would confer with Prosecutor Robert H. Huffer concerning legality of bidding for the new facilities.

DIXON said the new furnaces would cost in the neighborhood of $990 each. He advised they could be installed one per month until the project is completed.

Commission Chairman Clyde Michel and members Lloyd Melvin and Wayne Hines concurred that the present heating system is costing too much to keep the unit operating. One of the bills approved today was for payment of $664 for repairs.

Michel said lines clogged with lime, poor circulation and other deficiencies have caused repeated boiler cracks. The old unit has broken down at regular intervals the past three years — and several times this year.

Dixon said the new gas furnaces could be installed in the basement of the old folks home, two in each wing. He said proper sealing of specified areas and adequate installation would provide controlled heating, something the infirmary lacks at the present time.

The new furnaces would be 160-000 British Thermal Units each. Dixon indicated they would adequately heat the building, and also noted that no regular fireman would be needed.

The Commissioners were unable to determine just how old the present heating system is. They said its present poor state and constant demand for repair place it in the "ancient" category.

IN OTHER business the Commission turned down a request by Civil Defense Director Harry Timmons asking for the necessary funds to purchase two radios to set up a base station here.

Michel said the money is not available at this time. However, the Board authorized Timmons to utilize money already on hand.

The Civil Defense director said

Churchmen Chided for Their Apology

CLEVELAND (AP)—A leading Protestant theologian told lay leaders of the United Church of Christ at an assembly here "it is time that the people of our churches are discouraged from apologizing for being people of God."

The speaker was Dr. Allen O. Miller, professor of systematic theology and philosophy at Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, Mo. The assembly, which ended Sunday, was sponsored by the Council for Lay Life and Work of the United Church of Christ.

Declaring that the Biblical origin of the word "layman" and its meaning must be re-discovered, Dr. Miller said laity "are the people of God. What greater badge of honor is there?"

Another speaker was Helen Huntington Smith of Cleveland, executive secretary of the Council for Lay Life and Work and the first woman to head a major national board of a Protestant denomination.

The purpose of the council, Miss Smith said "is to assist all men and women in the church to grow to full stature as mature Christians."

President Would OK Shelving Law Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy made it clear today that he wants Congress to vote a tax cut of at least $10 billion this year—even if it abandons the tax revisions he has proposed.

Addressing an economic growth symposium sponsored by the American Bankers Association, Kennedy said that Congress might conclude that a straight cut in tax rates without revisions would be simplest and best.

The President strongly indicated that he would not balk at such a turn of events.

"The first priority is a bill," he said.

In fact, Kennedy said, Congress might decide on a tax rate cut of $13 billion.

He indicated such a move would be acceptable.

"If we're going to err," he said, "I would certainly err on the side of a big enough tax cut."

At another point, he said "If we're going to do this, we might as well do it right or not at all."

All these remarks came during an unscheduled question and answer session following a major address in which Kennedy used blunt words to reply to critics of his tax cut package.

The ABA symposium coincided with the 100th anniversary of the founding of the national banking system.

To mark the anniversary, Kennedy proclaimed 1963 as "The centennial of the commercial banking system."

In his prepared remarks, Kennedy said critics of his tax proposals have an obligation to offer positive alternatives.

The President said his proposal would promote the kind of economic growth that could add $5,000 to the income of the average American family during the next 10 years. That would be an average annual earnings increase of $500 a family.

Raul Castro Admits Cuba Has Troubles

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro's brother Raul admits that Cubans would be starving if it were not for aid from the Soviet Union.

"There are difficulties in our country," he said in a ceremony Saturday night commemorating the 45th anniversary of the Soviet army.

Just what aid the food-short Soviet Union is ending was not disclosed.

The younger Castro also announced that citizens of Havana would go on clothes rationing today. This indicated a drastic shortage of cotton and other lightweight clothing.

report later was labeled erroneous. Dirksen said he plans to discuss his findings with Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate's Preparedness subcommittee. A subcommittee inquiry into the military strength of Soviet-dominated Cuba is expected to get under way this week. Stennis has indicated he regards the 1961 invasion as "spilled milk" to which the group would not be justified in devoting much time at this point. Dirksen disagreed. "It seems to me it becomes a matter of some importance when even four American lives are lost," he said. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., contended on a television program Sunday that he and other Republicans had warned in advance what would happen in the Bay of Pigs. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., who appeared on the program with Scott, said his colleague was engaging in "Monday morning quarterbacking."

Dirksen Says 4 Yanks Killed In 1961 Invasion of Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said today he has uncovered evidence that four American fliers were killed in the abortive 1961 invasion of Cuba.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he has completed a one-man inquiry into the Bay of Pigs disaster and is ready to turn his findings over to Senate investigators.

Other than to report the belief that four American lives were lost, he declined to discuss the evidence he has assembled. Some of it came from participants in the invasion and some from U.S. military personnel in the area at the time.

The Republican leader said the four fliers were shot down in invasion planes which did not carry U.S. markings. Presumably they were in B26 bombers downed by jet trainers inherited by Fidel Castro from the overthrown Batista regime.

News stories at the time mentioned that one U.S. civilian flier might have been shot down. This

ATLANTA FIRE — Members of the Williamsport and New Holland Volunteer Fire departments brought this fire under control Saturday but not until all contents of the house were destroyed. It was the first of two fires occurring in Atlanta within 30 minutes. The second destroyed a house trailer. (Photo by Beaver)

Two Fires Strike Atlanta In Less than Half-Hour

Two fires within a half hour period were reported to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Saturday afternoon.

The first occurred at 5:05 p. m. when a blaze started in a house owned by Sherman Hawks of Atlanta.

All the contents were destroyed. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Tim L. Lapp and their four children, ranging in age from 18 months to four years.

Damage to the house was estimated at $2,500. The contents were valued at $2,000.

The Williamsport and New Holland Volunteer fire departments were called to the scene. Defective wiring was thought to have caused the fire.

THE SECOND fire was reported in a house trailer at 5:25 p. m. near the scene of the first blaze.

The trailer was destroyed. The fire apparently started in a fuel oil heater. Damage was set at $1,000. The house trailer was owned and occupied by Oliver Forsythe.

Pickaway County Deputies William Pontious and George Linder investigated for the sheriff's department.

Reconciliation Effort Seen Between Khrushchev, Mao

By STANLEY JOHNSON
AP News Analyst

Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Chinese Communist chief Mao Tse-tung seem to be dipping their toes gingerly into the waters of reconciliation.

There are indications from both Moscow and Peking that the leaders of the two Red giants want to bridge their ideological and political fissure which has rocked the Communist world.

Signs of a thaw in the icy relations began to appear ten days ago.

Among the latest developments: 1. Mao Tse-tung called in the Soviet ambassador to China, Stepan V. Chervonenko, for their first serious talk. Pravda on Sunday gave big front-page play to the meeting.

Wu Hsiu-chuan, who was publicly humiliated by Khrushchev at the East German Red party congress in Berlin, was present. Wu toured East European party congresses recently, attacking Yugoslavia and, by implication, Khrushchev.

Also present was Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and former ambassador to Moscow Liu Shao-chi.

2. On a slightly lower level in Moscow, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko had the new Chinese ambassador, Pan Tzu-li, to lunch, obviously with Khrushchev's approval. This also was big news in Sunday's Pravda.

It was evident both ambassadors had something of importance to report to their chiefs and also that they had had something of importance to say to their hosts.

Khrushchev singled out Pan for ostentatious attention at a Moscow reception. He publicly pledged the eternal brotherhood of the Soviet Union and Communist China.

Then Pravda printed a long editorial which, as the Chinese had done previously, deplored the publicity surrounding the dispute. It said the Soviet Communist party would meet privately with any fraternal party no matter what quarrels lay between them. Such a meeting, Pravda said could then be followed by an international session of the world Communist movement.

Chillicothe Boy, 13, Admits Stealing Autos

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — A 13-year-old Chillicothe boy, spotted by sheriff's deputy, at Northeastern High School, has admitted stealing two cars, according to officers.

The boy was discovered near midnight Saturday at the school and admitted the theft of a car at Chillicothe and another at nearby Verz Cruz. Both were abandoned after they ran out of gas, deputies said.

Officers quoted Chillicothe officials says the boy was on probation for taking a school bus.

Libya Starts Long Task Of Rebuilding

EL MARJ, Libya (AP) — The search for bodies was abandoned in the earthquake ruins of El Marj today, and Libyan officials began making plans to resurrect the shattered town.

Thousands of homeless moved forlornly into two encampments being rushed up outside the town. They settled down, 60 and 70 to a tent, to await provision of new homes.

"They will have a long time to wait," said one local official. "It could take months or years to rebuild El Marj. But we have been promised that the town planners will be here as soon as possible to make a start."

The 20 per cent of El Marj's buildings still standing after the quake Thursday night are too dangerous for habitation. The rest are rubble.

The death toll was estimated at 261 by British army authorities who supervised the rescue work. Libyan officials said about 40 persons were still unaccounted for.

Crowds of homeless still milled around the center of town, waiting to be directed to some kind of living quarters.

Colombian Chiefs Criticized by Labor

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The Confederation of Colombian Workers blamed the government today for a clash between troops and striking cement workers that killed 11 persons and wounded 34 near Medellin Saturday.

The confederation charged the army ignored the strikers' constitutional rights and escorted a caravan delivering cement from the plant.

The government countered that extremist elements ambushed the caravan and began shooting at the escort, forcing the troops to return fire. All the dead were strikers. Eleven soldiers were wounded. Authorities have arrested 94 persons.

The cement workers struck three weeks ago demanding higher pay and fringe benefits.

But the attackers, he said, "are under some obligation to put forward a solution of their own" to the growth-rate problem if they don't like his idea of cutting taxes by $10.2 billion during the next three years.

He also had sharp words for those who want lower taxes, provided they reap the biggest benefits.

"The prospects for tax reduction and economic growth must not be endangered by squabbles over who will benefit most," he asserted.

The ABA symposium was called to enable some 300 executives and analysts from public and private life to hear discussions of economic growth and possible ways of achieving it.

Kennedy aimed his remarks directly at the principal arguments advanced by critics of his call for the largest tax cut in the nation's history.

He was particularly biting in references to what he termed "heated talk about budget increases—partisan talk about swollen federal payrolls—exasperated talk about increasing the deficit—an, finally, rash talk about a crushing debt burden."

Kennedy said civilian budget expenditures are decreasing, the federal payroll is getting smaller in relation to the population, the deficit would be bigger than ever if inaction on taxes hastened a recession, and the national debt "is not only manageable but steadily declining" in relation to the size of the economy.

Stock Market Drifts Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted irregularly lower early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .3 at 257.6 with industrials down .7, rails down .1, and utilities up .1.

Key stocks lost fractions to about a point. Scattered stocks bucked the downturn with gains of fractions to a point.

President Kennedy's warning of another recession if Congress does not cut taxes seemed to have little effect, as this idea has been expressed repeatedly.

Motors, rails, utilities and tobaccos were mixed. The trend was lower among electrical equipments, chemicals, building materials and nonferrous metals. Aerospace issues, mail order retailers and oils were higher on balance.

Tribunal Voids Convictions Of 187 Negroes in Carolina

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court set aside today the conviction of 187 Negroes on breach of the peace charges brought after they demonstrated against racial segregation on the South Carolina State Capitol grounds.

Justice Stewart delivered the court's 8-1 decision. Justice Clark wrote a dissenting opinion.

The Negroes, high school and college students, carried placards and paraded about the Capitol at Columbia, S.C., on March 2, 1961. The State Senate was in session at the time.

Stewart's opinion said that "In arresting, convicting and punishing the petitioners (the demonstrators) under the circumstances disclosed by this record, South Carolina infringed the petitioners' constitutionally protected rights of free speech, free assembly and freedom to petition for redress of their grievances."

Joining Stewart in the majority were Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Douglas, Harlan, Brennan, White and Goldberg.

Clark's dissenting opinion said that the demonstrators "of course, had a right to peaceable assembly to espouse their cause and to petition," but, he added, "In my view the manner in which they exercised their rights was by means of the passive demonstration which this court (the majority) relates."

During argument of the case last December, Atty. Gen. Daniel McLeod of South Carolina, told the high court that about an hour after the demonstration began a crowd of spectators assembled on streets in the area, among them individuals known to police as troublemakers. The police then ordered the Negro demonstrators to disperse. They refused and were arrested.

Jack Greenberg, New York attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Legal Defense and Educational Fund, told the Supreme Court there was no violence by demonstrators or onlookers.

"If it could be seen that there was a threat of violence by onlookers," he argued, "it was the duty of police to proceed against the aggressors, not their duty to gratify the aggressors by proceeding against the demonstrators."

McLeod said that when the students were ordered to disperse, their leader began to harangue them. Boisterous conduct followed, he said, in which Negroes clapped their hands, stamped their feet and sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" and a spiritual "I Shall Not Be Moved."

Fines of $100 or 30 days in jail were imposed on demonstrators over 21 years of age. Similar fines, with half the amount suspended were given those in the 17 to 21 age bracket. Those under 17 were sentenced to pay $10 or serve five days in jail.

In the Supreme Court's majority opinion, Stewart said it had long been established that the rights of free speech, assembly and freedom to petition were protected by the Constitution's 14th Amendment from invasion by the states.

"Circumstances in this case," Stewart declared, "reflect an exercise of these basic constitutional rights in their most pristine and classic form."

The demonstrators, his opinion continued, were convicted of an offense so generalized as to be, in the words of the South Carolina Supreme Court, "not susceptible of exact definition."

And they were convicted upon evidence which showed no more than that the opinions which they were peaceably expressing were sufficiently opposed to the views of the majority of the community to attract and necessitate police protection.

"The 14th Amendment does not permit a state to make criminal the peaceful expression of unpopular views."

Clark's dissent said the city manager of Columbia testified that a dangerous situation was building up and South Carolina courts expressly found the situation had created interference with traffic and threatened disturbance of the peace of the community.

"It is my belief," Clark said, "that anyone conversant with the almost spontaneous combustion in some Southern communities in such a situation will agree that the city manager's action (in deciding that danger to peace and safety was imminent) may well have averted a major catastrophe."

A typical scene in an American supermarket — European housewives like some of the products shown here—but not all.

Europeans Voice Their Views On American-Made Products

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

WASHINGTON — In an effort to get European housewives to buy more American products, the United States Department of Commerce has been making some surveys on the other side of the Atlantic.

Some of the answers they have come up with are far from flattering. Durability, according to most of the European women polled isn't a word they associate with the label "Made in the U.S.A."

Britishers, for example, report that American-made, low priced women's dresses often start coming apart at the seams after being worn only a short while. "If American manufacturers palm off such shoddy goods abroad," says a Londoner, "The United States is going to wind up with the same reputation for low-quality goods that Japan once had."

The trade magazine, Advertising Age, in a poll of its own, also reports that American goods are acquiring a low-quality stigma abroad. The finding: "European consumers think that American products have been workmanship and little durability — on purpose — but excel in package, and product design that gives them 'dressed-up' practicality."

The magazine goes on to report that the insufficient durability of U. S. products is not blamed on incompetence but on the need to keep America's industrial wheels turning by frequent replacement of their output. However, even with buying more-and-more American products!

American-made lingerie, reports the Department of Commerce, now dominates the European market. Other products are also surprisingly successful. At a recent housewares show in London, big sales were registered in American-made garbage disposal units, portable dishwashers, and "hot trays" for keeping cooked foods warm.

On the other hand, European women, says the Department of Commerce, don't go for large, economy sizes. They're too expensive. They prefer to buy in much smaller quantities, such as single instant-coffee packets that make one cup.

To Americans, an 11-cubic-foot refrigerator is not overly large. But to Europeans, a "large size" refrigerator means a four-to-six-foot model. Europeans, too prefer the simple washing machines, rather than the models with lots of extras and gadgets.

Clothes of man-made fibers, wash-and-wear materials, and other new fabrics sell well to European women. Other American goods selling well are those for use in outdoor recreation and leisure living. American canned soups and frozen TV dinners are also popular.

To help push the sale of American goods in Europe, the Commerce Department has joined hands with the U. S. Trade Center on the European continent in Frankfurt, West Germany. American manufacturers have display space there for showing their products to European distributors and store buyers.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trouble with the Allies over nuclear weapons has its roots in a secret agreement made 20 years ago at Quebec between President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill.

Their two nations, along with Canada, were working together to develop the atomic bomb. Their secret, wartime agreement — to exchange information on atomic development — was disclosed after the war.

But the United States ended the agreement after the war and put a lid on information. Years later, in his "Memoirs of the Second World War," Churchill still sounded terribly disappointed.

"I thought the best possible arrangements had been made in the agreement with President Roosevelt."

The British were certainly disappointed. So, later, were the French. Now President Kennedy, for the sake of the cold war alliance, is trying to work some new kind of agreement. He calls it a multinational nuclear force.

That's a vague, mushy-sounding phrase. It's because Kennedy hasn't been clear on what he has in mind. For reasons that follow he probably doesn't know exactly what he can do or how far he can go. Congress has a say in this.

Roosevelt died before the war with Germany ended and was replaced by President Truman. The British replaced Churchill with Prime Minister Attlee before the war with Japan was ended.

Attlee met Truman in Washington late in 1945 to discuss a future atomic partnership. In his memoirs written years later Truman recalled asking the State Department for an interpretation of the Quebec agreement.

He got this answer and stood by it: exchange of information on how to manufacture the bomb — "know-how" — was to be shared only if necessary to get the bomb made.

The department said this was understood by Churchill's experts working on the problem. But when Churchill was writing many years later he still seemed to have a different understanding.

U. S. reasoning went like this: Although the United States had monopoly on the bomb in 1945, the Russians eventually would learn how to make it. Meanwhile, this country wasn't going to help the Russians break the monopoly by divulging manufacturing "know-how."

On Aug. 1, 1946 Congress made the clamp-down on information doubly sure with the Atomic Energy Act.

As time passed the United States had to balance its concern about secrecy against its concern for the NATO alliance since it was holding back information in a field upon which the strength of the partnership depended.

The United States had to re-arrange its thinking. In 1955 it agreed to exchange some information with the British who by 1957, exploded a nuclear device of their own. The Russians by then had a bomb of their own.

In 1958 Congress amended the act of 1946, allowing the President to give allies information on weapons and materials but not weapons or parts of weapons. This could be done only when an ally had made "substantial" progress in the development of atomic weapons. It gives a president room for choosing.

So far Britain has qualified, but not France, although France has had its own atomic explosions. They are the only two who have made what might be considered substantial progress.

French President de Gaulle wants to make his own nuclear force.

He has this kind of concern, involving the most important restriction of all in the law Congress passed: no matter where American nuclear weapons are placed — say in Europe — the United States must not turn control of them over to anyone else. Thus the United States alone can say when, or if, a weapon is to be fired.

This leaves De Gaulle with the fear — and who can say this country would not feel the same if the positions were reversed? — that in some crisis the United States, for its own reasons, might not be willing to pull the trigger to back up its allies.

Now Kennedy has offered Britain — and France, too, although France turned him down — missiles for which she will have to make her own warheads.

Still unanswered because Kennedy as of now probably doesn't know the answer is this question:

What good are the missiles to the allies if they don't have warheads to put on them. He can't give them the warheads unless Congress changes the law, so what does it add up to? Nobody seems to know.

Missing Men Still Sought

One Pennsylvanian Said Enroute Home

TROY Pa. (AP)—An alert for two missing businessmen remained in effect today, although indications were one was headed home.

Jerome Blaine, 45, who vanished last week, telephoned his wife Sunday and told her he was on the way home, said Asst. Police Chief Theodore York. There still was no word, however, on the whereabouts of Loron Leonard, 38. He disappeared within 24 hours of Blaine. The police said they do not think the cases are related.

Blaine is a partner in the Penn-L Leather Co. Leonard is manager of the Troy Equipment Co.

Blaine's car had been parked at the Chemung County Airport just outside Elmira, N. Y. Sunday night it was moved and turned up at Blaine's house in Troy, said Police Chief Ray Havens.

Mrs. Blaine later said she moved the car and added she did not know when her husband was due back. The car was left at the airport where Blaine booked a flight for Chicago which left last Wednesday.

Earlier York said Mrs. Blaine related she did not know where her husband was when he called to say he was coming home. She did not ask him, said York. Blaine was quoted as saying he suffered a lapse of memory.

York said the missing person alert for Blaine would remain in effect until he returns.

York said he thinks the disappearance of Leonard was "the result of overwork."

The officer said, "Leonard's business has not been good. He was putting in long hours and was under terrific strain."

Blaine has 10 children, ranging in age from 6 months to 19 years. He disappeared Tuesday. York said Blaine's brother, John Blaine of Cornwall N. Y., told him he received a telegram from Jerome asking him to send money to Kansas City, Mo. John told York he sent $100.

Leonard is the father of two children. He was last seen last Monday when he left work for his home in Athens, 35 miles north of Troy.

Industrial Building Lost

CLEVELAND (AP)—A vacant industrial building in southwest Cleveland was gutted by a spectacular four-alarm fire Sunday night. Some 70 firemen fought the blaze in the three-story brick building formerly occupied by the Ohio Provision Co.

A typical scene in an American supermarket — European housewives like some of the products shown here—but not all.

Europeans Voice Their Views On American-Made Products

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

WASHINGTON — In an effort to get European housewives to buy more American products, the United States Department of Commerce has been making some surveys on the other side of the Atlantic.

Some of the answers they have come up with are far from flattering. Durability, according to most of the European women polled isn't a word they associate with the label "Made in the U.S.A."

Britishers, for example, report that American-made, low priced women's dresses often start coming apart at the seams after being worn only a short while. "If American manufacturers palm off such shoddy goods abroad," says a Londoner, "The United States is going to wind up with the same reputation for low-quality goods that Japan once had."

The trade magazine, Advertising Age, in a poll of its own, also reports that American goods are acquiring a low-quality stigma abroad. The finding: "European consumers think that American products have been workmanship and little durability — on purpose — but excel in package, and product design that gives them 'dressed-up' practicality."

The magazine goes on to report that the insufficient durability of U.S. products is not blamed on incompetence but on the need to keep America's industrial wheels turning by frequent replacement of their output. However, even with buying more-and-more American products!

American-made lingerie, reports the Department of Commerce, now dominates the European market. Other products are also surprisingly successful. At a recent housewares show in London, big sales were registered in American-made garbage disposal units, portable dishwashers, and "hot trays" for keeping cooked foods warm.

On the other hand, European women, says the Department of Commerce, don't go for large, economy sizes. They're too expensive. They prefer to buy in much smaller quantities, such as single instant-coffee packets that make one cup.

To Americans, an 11-cubic-foot refrigerator is not overly large. But to Europeans, a "large size" refrigerator means a four-to-six-foot model. Europeans, too, prefer the simple washing machines, rather than the models with lots of extras and gadgets.

Clothes of man-made fibers, wash-and-wear materials, and other new fabrics sell well to European women. Other American goods selling well are those for use in outdoor recreation and leisure living. American canned soups and frozen TV dinners are also popular.

To help push the sale of American goods in Europe, the Commerce Department has joined hands with the U. S. Trade Center on the European continent in Frankfurt, West Germany. American manufacturers have display space there for showing their products to European distributors and store buyers.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trouble with the Allies over nuclear weapons has its roots in a secret agreement made 20 years ago at Quebec between President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill.

Their two nations, along with Canada, were working together to develop the atomic bomb. Their secret, wartime agreement — to exchange information on atomic development — was disclosed after the war.

But the United States ended the agreement after the war and put a lid on information. Years later, in his "Memoirs of the Second World War," Churchill still sounded terribly disappointed.

"I thought the best possible arrangements had been made in the agreement with President Roosevelt,"

The British were certainly disappointed. So, later, were the French. Now President Kennedy, for the sake of the cold war alliance, is trying to work some new kind of agreement. He calls it a multinational nuclear force.

That's a vague, mushy-sounding phrase. It's because Kennedy hasn't been clear on what he has in mind. For reasons that follow he probably doesn't know exactly what he can do or how far he can go. Congress has a say in this.

Roosevelt died before the war with Germany ended and was replaced by President Truman. The British replaced Churchill with Prime Minister Attlee before the war with Japan was ended.

Attlee met Truman in Washington late in 1945 to discuss a future atomic partnership. In his memoirs written years later Truman recalled asking the State Department for an interpretation of the Quebec agreement.

He got this answer and stood by it: exchange of information on how to manufacture the bomb—"know-how"—was to be shared only if necessary to get the bomb made.

The department said this was understood by Churchill's experts working on the problem. But when Churchill was writing many years later he still seemed to have a different understanding.

U.S. reasoning went like this: Although the United States had monopoly on the bomb in 1945, the Russians eventually would learn how to make it. Meanwhile, this country wasn't going to help the Russians break the monopoly by divulging manufacturing "know-how."

Marion Gun Play Leaves Man, 31, Dead

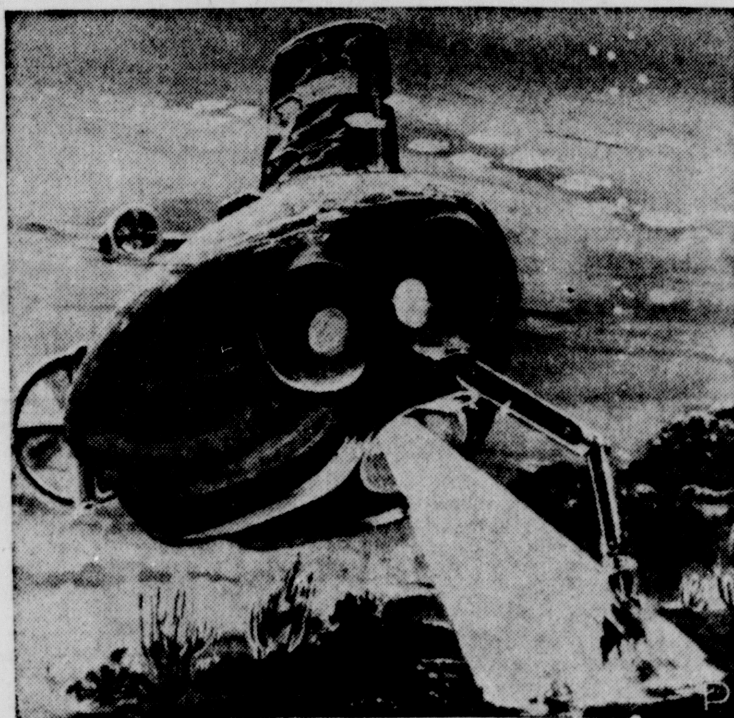

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Frank Gragg, 36 of Marion lay in the hospital today in serious condition after surgery for head injuries inflicted, witnesses told police, by the man he fatally shot.

The shooting victim was Ernest Williams, 31. He died in Marion General Hospital Sunday an hour after police found him with bullet wounds in the torso, both legs and a finger.

Williams' wife and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hudson told police Gragg and an unidentified man came to their house and Gragg pulled two guns after arguing with Williams over money. Mr. and Mrs. Williams, formerly of Detroit, were staying with the Hudsons in recent weeks.

The witnesses said Gragg shot Williams but that the wounded man managed to grab one of Gragg's guns and beat him over the head with it before he fell.

Charges have not been filed pending further investigation.

Story for Mark Twain

Congratulations should go to Miss Dottie Pratt of Erie, Pa., the airline stewardess who protected her passengers from panic when 10 frogs escaped from the baggage compartment on a flight from Buffalo to Albany. The tailless, leaping amphibians were part of a shipment bound for medical centers to be used in research.

So Miss Pratt deserves a pat on the back from all good scientists — and the line forms on the left.

But Dottie's saga is one that could have been written best by Mark Twain, whose famous short story of 1865, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County," started him on the road to fame — or perhaps along the broad river to renown, since the great humorist was a pilot on the Mississippi.

In these days a pilot is more often thought of as being airborne than waterborne, which brings us back to Dottie's leaping frogs: Mark Twain might have made quite a story about somebody having forgotten to fasten the seat belt.

Mona Lisa Smiles Again

Did or didn't the French ambassador snub the United Nations secretary general? Diplomatic circles, which never have so many problems that they cannot find room for new ones, are debating this question with some animation.

It all stems from the dinner which the Metropolitan Museum in New York threw to celebrate the arrival of that French art treasure, the "Mona Lisa."

A report got out that Herve Alphand, French ambassador to the U. S., refused to let U Thant, UN secretary general, sit at the head table. He did, the report said, agree to having Thant sit at the second table beside Mrs. Alphand, but said they couldn't be photographed together. The French embassy denies all this, saying the seating was arranged by the museum.

Anyway, Thant notified the museum he wouldn't be at the dinner. Other UN staff members — for this reason or another — also canceled out.

One could, of course, say that it's all the fault of a woman — Mona Lisa herself. If it weren't for her, the incident would never have occurred. No wonder Mona Lisa has that silly smile on her face.

Task for OAS

How thoroughly Cuba has been converted into a base for exporting communist revolution throughout the Americas is evident in a security report compiled by the Organization of American States. This is a sampling:

"Soviet experts are training Cubans and other Latin Americans in subversion, sabotage and guerilla warfare.

"Schools and universities, operating under a rigid system of thought control, extend 'scholarships' to youths from other countries.

"Illicit traffic in money and arms flows to revolutionary groups acting against constituted governments.

"Cuban broadcasts advise and direct terrorist groups in other countries."

Short of invasion, only the concerted action of OAS member states can deal with the insidious threat of this communist base in the Caribbean. The Council of the Organization of American States hasn't met since last October, when the Cuban crisis threatened to explode into war.

Since then the perils of subversion have increased.

Equal Protection of Law

By John Chamberlain

The Amish people of Ohio and Lancaster County in Pennsylvania, who have religious scruples about becoming wards in any way of the Welfare State, are petitioning Congress to exempt them from the system of compulsory Social Security. No doubt all congenial individualists should wish the Amish well in their quest. But I, for one, would resent the favoritism implied if one group is relieved of the spiritual degradation of having to be carried on Big Brother State's books as a bunch of nine-digit numbers while others have to put up with it.

You see, my objection to the philosophy of the Welfare State is fundamentally religious, too. I am not a member of the Amish sect, or, indeed, of any organized religious group. But my feeling about the nature of man is such that I think it all wrong when human beings are compelled in such things as this matter of saving for their old age. God, to my way of thinking, gave people the grace of free will with the idea that they should exercise it without a cop standing over them at every important turn in their lives.

In this country there is supposed to be such a thing as equal protection of the law: the legal privileges and immunities of the citizen are, theoretically, equal. This doctrine derives from the Christian belief that every soul is equal in the sight of God. Of course, the whole concept of legal equality actually went by the boards years ago. The progressive income tax, for example, makes all sorts of exemptions for all sorts of people's dollars. A rich man's high-bracket dollars are nicked at a much higher rate than a poor man's — unless the rich man happens to have invested his money in municipal tax-exempt bonds or in expeditions devoted to exploring new sources of oil.

Inequality before the law is built into the whole tissue of our economy. A man who gives his money to organized charity gets a tax break — but my extreme individualist friend Harry Serwer, an advertising man who gives his money on principle to needy individuals, is given no deductions for his benevolence. A man in the writing business would be laughed out of his Congressman's ante-room if he were to ask for a federal price support for his words if editors declined to pay him a certain rate. Farmers, on the other hand, receive price supports for their produce as a matter of course. Are words, then, less deserving of equity than wheat?

The idea that we still live by the old principle of justice that prescribes equality of privileges and immunities, is, in practice, strictly for the birds as the degenerate modern age sees it. Well, my religious view of life is such that I am profoundly offended by this state of affairs. My Creator, I am deeply convinced, did not put me on earth to be a ward of the State in any shape or manner.

For the act of making me a ward, whether it is as a subsidized consumer or producer or as a recipient of medicare or whatever, invites the forcible seizure of some poor devil's substance in order to take care of me. Morally and religiously, this is wrong. It is an offense against the commandment that makes theft a sin. It is also an offense against the idea that the legal privileges and immunities of free men should be equal.

Now, if the Amish people are to be exempted from compulsory Social Security on religious grounds, I claim that I should be exempted, too. I take my stand on the fundamental insights of Christianity, as exemplified in all the documents that formed the thinking of the Founding Fathers of the Republic. Can it be right that an Amish farmer should be granted something for religious reasons that is denied other staunch believers in the religious sanctions of Christian individualism? Must we all become adherents to the Amish cult to have the blessings of liberty restored to us?

I hold no animosity against the Amish; indeed, I admire their spunk. But what about those of us whose religion is of a personal, unorganized character? Are we to be discriminated against simply because we can't shout loud enough to prove that our God is against compulsion in Social Security, too?

Ohio Corporations Get State Thank-You

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — He'd mentioned it before, but State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach now has put it on record: He thanked Ohio corporations Sunday on behalf of the state's schoolteachers.

"The people of Ohio owe their corporations a tremendous vote of thanks . . . one of the most general gestures I have ever witnessed," Krabach said. He was speaking of the $29 million in corporate franchise taxes paid ahead of schedule. This was in response to his request for early payment so the financially-pinched state could meet teachers' salaries due shortly.

A WILY REALTOR in Manhattan spurs the rental of apartments in his new buildings by having two identical suites vary as much as ten percent in the asking price.

One type of customer takes note of the difference, inspects the two suites, and quickly signs up for the cheaper of them before somebody else spots the apparent mistake. On the other hand, just as many customers willingly rent the more expensive apartment in order to have the highest priced suite in the building! (From "Showmanship in Business" by Goode and Kaufman.)

On a South Pacific island during World War II an officer was staring moodily into the pitch black night. "You haven't slept in forty-eight hours, sir," an anxious aide reminded him. "You need rest desperately." "My work is never done," answered the officer grimly. "My autobiography is due next Tuesday and I'm only up to Chapter Twelve."

Miss Edna Ferber sent flowers to a sick friend in the hospital recently, enclosing a card that made the recipient feel better on the instant. It read, "If loving thoughts are a comfort, my dear, you are lying on cream puffs."

Guide to Better Health

By HARRY J. JOHNSON, M. D.

You may be overly concerned about your heart. Sometimes this may actually lead to an erratic heartbeat, called paroxysmal tachycardia. This is not heart disease and is rarely any more serious than an experience of extreme discomfort.

The best thing you can do is forget you have a heart. It will go on beating. The heart is the strongest and toughest organ in your body. A muscle about the size of a man's fist, it beats an average of 70 to 80 times a minute under normal conditions. During emergencies it can readily step up its rate to 130 or more beats per minute, indicating a tremendous reserve capacity and power.

There are three main categories of heart disease: (1) congenital, (2) rheumatic, and (3) arteriosclerotic.

The type of heart disease that concerns most persons is arteriosclerotic, which is the most serious health problem in middle life.

As we grow older, the arteries throughout the body become harder and lose their elasticity, thereby offering greater resistance to the circulation of blood. A form of arteriosclerosis called arteriosclerosis produces the same results by roughening and thickening the lining of the artery.

The most commonly asked questions about heart disease and the answers are:

Q. What causes a heart attack?

A. The generally accepted view today is that a heart attack may result from atherosclerosis which may be accelerated by unintelligent living — inadequate sleep, poor diet, lack of exercise, and too much smoking, with perhaps a little extra push from hereditary and stress factors.

Q. What are the symptoms of a heart attack?

A. Severe pain in the chest and sudden shortness of breath. The pain may be a dull sensation, like something is squeezing your chest together, or it may be quite sharp, radiating out to one or both arms.

Q. What should you do when you think you're having a heart attack?

A. The first and most important thing is to avoid getting excited. Lie down, rest, and send for a physician. You cannot and should not attempt to treat or diagnose the condition yourself.

Q. Are most heart attacks fatal?

A. Only a small percentage are instantly fatal. By far the great majority of heart attacks are relatively mild.

Q. Do most persons die of heart attacks while engaged in some strenuous work or play?

A. It may surprise you, but most fatal attacks of heart disease occur while the victim is at rest or in his sleep. Physical activity or exertion may "trigger" the attack, but in most cases the attack was probably well on its way. It is for this reason that I encourage men past forty not to engage in extremely active or competitive sports.

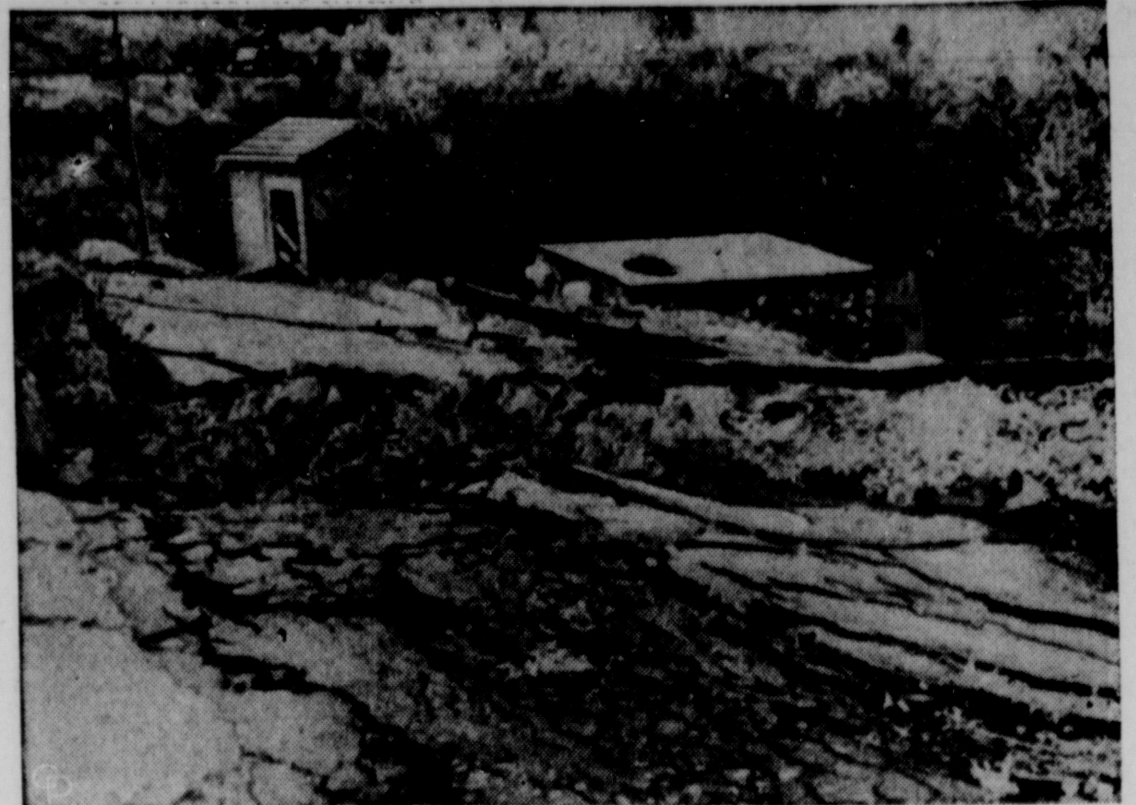

Q. Are certain types of people most apt to have heart attacks?

A. Quite a number of studies have been made attempting to link heart disease with stress, particularly among men who work in the so-called "stress occupations." But the evidence indicates that a manual laborer is just as apt to have a heart attack as an executive.

The Business World

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Profit taking on the stock market's prolonged advance finally grew strong enough last week to produce the first overall market decline in 10 weeks.

The drop was a moderate one. The trading week was shortened to four days by the Washington's Birthday holiday. One session of vigorously rising prices could have produced a net gain instead of a loss for the week.

The market actually began the week by rising to a new recovery high on Monday—the highest level since last June's low. But the rise was marred by profit taking which began in mid-session and carried to the close, although the averages ended the day with a slight advance.

The profit taking continued for two full sessions rather sharply. It was tapering off Thursday morning. Late improvement Thursday gave the list a slight gain on the eve of the three-day weekend.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which reached a recovery closing peak of 688.96 on Monday, ended the week at 681.64, for a net loss of 4.43.

Market technicians said the market seemed to be "bumping its head" on Monday against overhead resistance in the form of stock for sale as it rose above 690 on an intra-day basis. The decline, at any rate, was ascribed chiefly to technical reasons rather than to any drastic change in the economic news.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week dropped 1.8 to 257.9.

Volume was 16,945,955 shares, compared with 22,608,490 for the full five-day trading week previous.

Steels began the week with a rally based on industry reports that steel orders were running 10 to 20 per cent ahead of the month-ago pace. This was underlined later by news that weekly steel production had surged to the largest volume in nearly 10 months.

Later in the week, however, news that U.S. Steel had posted price reductions for various grades of steel tended to dim the optimism about steel shares.

In general, economic news was assuming a mixed character. Home construction sagged in January. Personal income was reported higher in January, but only because of a special one-shot payment of GI life insurance dividends; otherwise it would have been lower.

On the brother side, durable goods orders rose in January. Retail sales and department store sales also gained.

Story for Mark Twain

Congratulations should go to Miss Dottie Pratt of Erie, Pa., the airline stewardess who protected her passengers from panic when 10 frogs escaped from the baggage compartment on a flight from Buffalo to Albany. The tailless, leaping amphibians were part of a shipment bound for medical centers to be used in research.

So Miss Pratt deserves a pat on the back from all good scientists — and the line forms on the left.

But Dottie's saga is one that could have been written best by Mark Twain, whose famous short story of 1865, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County," started him on the road to fame — or perhaps along the broad river to renown, since the great humorist was a pilot on the Mississippi.

In these days a pilot is more often thought of as being airborne than waterborne, which brings us back to Dottie's leaping frogs: Mark Twain might have made quite a story about somebody having forgotten to fasten the seat belt.

Mona Lisa Smiles Again

Did or didn't the French ambassador snub the United Nations secretary general? Diplomatic circles, which never have so many problems that they cannot find room for new ones, are debating this question with some animation.

It all stems from the dinner which the Metropolitan Museum in New York threw to celebrate the arrival of that French art treasure, the "Mona Lisa."

A report got out that Herve Alphand, French ambassador to the U. S., refused to let U Thant, UN secretary general, sit at the head table. He did, the report said, agree to having Thant sit at the second table beside Mrs. Alphand, but said they couldn't be photographed together. The French embassy denies all this, saying the seating was arranged by the museum.

Anyway, Thant notified the museum he wouldn't be at the dinner. Other UN staff members — for this reason or another — also canceled out.

One could, of course, say that it's all the fault of a woman — Mona Lisa herself. If it weren't for her, the incident would never have occurred. No wonder Mona Lisa has that silly smile on her face.

Task for OAS

How thoroughly Cuba has been converted into a base for exporting communist revolution throughout the Americas is evident in a security report compiled by the Organization of American States. This is a sampling:

"Soviet experts are training Cubans and other Latin Americans in subversion, sabotage and guerilla warfare.

"Schools and universities, operating under a rigid system of thought control, extend 'scholarships' to youths from other countries.

"Illicit traffic in money and arms flows

to revolutionary groups acting against constituted governments.

"Cuban broadcasts advise and direct terrorist groups in other countries."

Short of invasion, only the concerted action of OAS member states can deal with the insidious threat of this communist base in the Caribbean. The Council of the Organization of American States hasn't met since last October, when the Cuban crisis threatened to explode into war.

Since then the perils of subversion have increased.

Equal Protection of Law

By John Chamberlain

The Amish people of Ohio and Lancaster County in Pennsylvania, who have religious scruples about becoming wards in any way of the Welfare State, are petitioning Congress to exempt them from the system of compulsory Social Security. No doubt all congenial individualists should wish the Amish well in their quest. But I, for one, would resent the favoritism implied if one group is relieved of the spiritual degradation of having to be carried on Big Brother State's books as a bunch of nine-digit numbers while others have to put up with it.

You see, my objection to the philosophy of the Welfare State is fundamentally religious, too. I am not a member of the Amish sect, or, indeed, of any organized religious group. But my feeling about the nature of man is such that I think it all wrong when human beings are compelled in such things as this matter of saving for their old age. God, to my way of thinking, gave people the grace of free will with the idea that they should exercise it without a cop standing over them at every important turn in their lives.

In this country there is supposed to be such a thing as equal protection of the law.

tion of the law: the legal privileges and immunities of the citizen are, theoretically, equal. This doctrine derives from the Christian belief that every soul is equal in the sight of God. Of course, the whole concept of legal equality actually went by the boards years ago. The progressive income tax, for example, makes all sorts of exemptions for all sorts of people's dollars. A rich man's high-bracket dollars are nicked at a much higher rate than a poor man's — unless the rich man happens to have invested his money in municipal tax-exempt bonds or in expeditions devoted to exploring for new sources of oil.

Inequality before the law is built into the whole tissue of our economy. A man who gives his money to organized charity gets a tax break — but my extreme individualist friend Harry Serwer, an advertising man who gives his money on principle to needy individuals, is given no deductions for his benevolence. A man in the writing business would be laughed out of his Congressman's ante-room if he were to ask for a federal price support for his words if editors declined to pay him a certain rate. Farmers, on the other hand, receive price supports for their produce as a matter of course. Are words, then, less deserving of equity than wheat?

The idea that we still live by the old principle of justice that prescribes equality of privileges and immunities, is, in practice, strictly for the birds as the degenerate modern age sees it. Well, my religious view of life is such that I am profoundly offended by this state of affairs. My Creator, I am deeply convinced, did not put me on earth to be a ward of the State in any shape or manner.

For the act of making me a ward, whether it is as a subsidized consumer or producer or as a recipient of medicare or whatever, invites the forcible seizure of some poor devil's substance in order to take care of me. Morally and religiously, this is wrong. It is an offense against the commandment that makes theft a sin. It is also an offense against the idea that the legal privileges and immunities of free men should be equal.

Now, if the Amish people are to be exempted from compulsory Social Security on religious grounds, I claim that I should be exempted, too. I take my stand on the fundamental insights of Christianity, as exemplified in all the documents that formed the thinking of the Founding Fathers of the Republic. Can it be right that an Amish farmer should be granted something for religious reasons that is denied other staunch believers in the religious sanctions of Christian individualism? Must we all become adherents to the Amish cult to have the blessings of liberty restored to us?

I hold no animosity against the Amish; indeed, I admire their spunk. But what about those of us whose religion is of a personal, unorganized character? Are we to be discriminated against simply because we can't shout loud enough to prove that our God is against compulsion in Social Security, too?

Ohio Corporations Get State Thank-You

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — He'd mentioned it before, but State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach now has put it on record: He thanked Ohio corporations Sunday on behalf of the state's schoolteachers.

"The people of Ohio owe their corporations a tremendous vote of thanks . . . one of the most general gestures I have ever witnessed," Krabach said. He was speaking of the $29 million in corporate franchise taxes paid ahead of schedule. This was in response to his request for early payment so the financially-pinched state could meet teachers' salaries due shortly.

Guide to Better Health

By HARRY J. JOHNSON, M. D.

You may be overly concerned about your heart. Sometimes this may actually lead to an erratic heartbeat, called paroxysmal tachycardia. This is not heart disease and is rarely any more serious than an experience of extreme discomfort.

chest together, or it may be quite sharp, radiating out to one or both arms.

Q. What should you do when you think you're having a heart attack?
A. The first and most important thing is to avoid getting excited. Lie down, rest, and send for a physician. You cannot and should not attempt to treat or diagnose the condition yourself.

Q. Are most heart attacks fatal?
A. Only a small percentage are instantly fatal. By far the great majority of heart attacks are relatively mild.

Q. Do most persons die of heart attacks while engaged in some strenuous work or play?
A. It may surprise you, but most fatal attacks of heart disease occur while the victim is at rest or in his sleep. Physical activity or exertion may "trigger" the attack, but in most cases the attack was probably well on its way. It is for this reason that I encourage men past forty not to engage in extremely active or competitive sports.

Q. Are certain types of people most apt to have heart attacks?
A. Quite a number of studies have been made attempting to link heart disease with stress, particularly among men who work in the so-called "stress occupations."

But the evidence indicates that a manual laborer is just as apt to have a heart attack as an executive.

Steel Shipping Running High

Auto Stockpiling Due To Taper Off

CLEVELAND (AP)—Even with stockpiling by automakers expected to be light next month, March steel shipments will increase 15 per cent to the highest level since last April. Steel Magazine predicted today.

Consumer inventories will reflect 500,000 tons of the expected 6.7 million-ton increase in shipments, the metalworking weekly said.

Automakers are getting set to accelerate in the second quarter their hedging against the threat of a steel strike, the magazine said. Non-automotive customers haven't started hedging. They're still buying for immediate consumption, the publication stated.

"Economic conditions are better than expected and steel is being consumed at a surprisingly fast pace; users in seasonally affected industries like canning and construction are stepping up their purchases because they know their requirements will soar when the weather moderates; inventory liquidation is grinding to a halt; some users are starting to hedge against the threat of a steel strike."

Steel distributors have seen a moderate sales pickup, the magazine said, but they're not building inventories.

The trade journal predicts ingot production this week will be slightly higher than the 2.1 million tons it estimates was poured last week, when mills operated at 65 per cent of capacity.

Woman Killed, Man Turns Gun on Himself

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati woman was shot and killed in her home late Sunday night by a man who afterwards turned the 12-gauge shotgun on himself, police reported.

Officers identified the dead woman as Mrs. Gloria Lovette, 35, and said the gun-wielder, George Berry, 53, was in serious condition after wounding himself.

Whiskey Rebellion Victory Seen Aid To Ohio Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio may have turned the financial corner in winning its own "whiskey rebellion."

Finance Director Richard Krabach not only withstood high-pressure demands by the state monopoly's biggest supplier for immediate payment of more than $9 million in back bills.

He won agreement from officials of Schenley Distillers Inc., that they would stand in line with other suppliers while the state took two years to pay off $44.5 million in liquor debts, due last year.

Krabach created a stir in the liquor industry by threatening to halt sale of Schenley products in state stores unless that firm went along with others under Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes' austerity program.

That program calls for the state to balance expenditures with revenues and pay off some $80 million in debts, including liquor bills. Krabach said were inherited from Democrat Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's administration. Others have asserted back obligations might exceed $100 million.

The capitulation of Schenley, lone holdout of the agreement, paved the way for modification of an injunction obtained by other suppliers to limit use of state liquor profits to debt payment.

The agreement allows the state to draw $25 million from its court-embargoed liquor fund to help pay school subsidies due Wednesday and to take out another $25 million next year.

The rest of an estimated $47 million in liquor profits in each of the next two years will be prorated among all suppliers to wipe out bills.

Krabach had said the agreement to split liquor profits between the state and suppliers would "keep us afloat" but that school foundation payments might be delayed if the money was unavailable.

The finance chief said the DiSalle administration drew $60 million from the liquor fund in 1961 for state operations and another $69 million last year although profits were under $45 million each year.

The injunction tying up liquor funds after DiSalle's reelection defeat last November followed reports that his administration had agreed to pay Schenley in full, leaving other suppliers holding the bag.

Schenley earlier had hired Richard Crouch after he resigned as liquor director.

Krabach said his threat to "de-list" Schenley brands followed weeks of what he called stalling on debt settlement negotiations.

The next day seven Schenley representatives and Krabach huddled here to hammer out their agreement.

During the conference, J. Lincoln Morris of New York, Schenley counsel, said his firm received liquor payments until last November.

"We acted in good faith that we would be paid by Jan. 14," he told Krabach. That was the date on which Rhodes succeeded DiSalle as governor.

Louis B. Nichols of New York, Schenley executive vice president, chimed in to say that "the fact that we were suckers once doesn't mean we will be again."

Nichols and another vice president W. Earle Blakeley of New York, insisted that Ohio should issue notes for immediate payment of the debt owed Schenley.

When Krabach refused, they offered to help obtain a $50 million loan for debt liquidation and were turned down again.

Krabach, after some hot exchanges, said he would stipulate that the state would stand by his agreement to pay on schedule, provided state revenues continue normal.

Isadore Topper, Columbus counsel for Schenley, said during the conference that he was unaware of the extent of liquor fund withdrawals in 1961. "I wish I had known in 1961 what they were doing," he said.

"Liquor Department statements have never been made available generally to the public," he explained.

"We have this problem but we didn't create it," Krabach observed. "We are going to balance the budget. I have got to operate the state with $44 million less than I would have had if they hadn't spent the money."

Thomas J. Hanson of New York, Schenley assistant treasurer, said his figures didn't agree with those of Krabach. But after a later check with Liquor Department officials, he termed them in line and attorneys went to work on the stipulation.

They indicated it would be filed here probably Monday in appellate court which issued the injunction, barring any hitch.

Schenley Board Chairman Lewis Rosenstiel was reported less than enthusiastic about the agreement when he learned of it in London. Engand. He promptly flew to New York for a review over the weekend.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Feb. 25, the 56th day of 1963.

There are 309 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1836, Samuel Colt patented the "six-shooter" or revolving pistol which was given much of the credit for winning the West. It was the first practical weapon of its kind and its manufacture was begun in Paterson, N. J. the same year.

On this day:

In 1779, George Rogers Clark's outnumbered and poorly equipped army captured Vincennes, Ind., the key British post of the Old Northwest.

In 1862, the first legal tender paper money act was signed, the currency soon getting the name of "greenbacks."

In 1901, U.S. Steel Corp. was incorporated, beginning the era of billion-dollar companies.

In 1913, the income tax amendment to the Constitution was declared in force.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the end of the fight for Manila with the complete destruction of Japanese garrison.

Today's birthday:

Sen. John McClean, D-Ark., is 67.

Thought for today:

I believe that thrift is essential to well-ordered living and that economy is a prime requisite of a sound financial structure, either in government, business or personal affairs.—John D. Rockefeller Jr.

Negotiations Scheduled in News Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—A full schedule of negotiations is on tap this week as the strike that blacked out Cleveland's daily newspapers Nov. 29 nears the end of its third month.

Negotiations with the non-striking Stereotypers Union resume today. That union, which represents 70 employees at the Plain Dealer and the Press and News, has rejected a $10 package spread over two years. The money offer matched that which the non-striking Pressmen and Paper Handlers accepted earlier.

The Printers, one of five unions which went on strike in the newspaper black-out, are to meet with management representatives Tuesday. All-day bargaining between the two sides also is tentatively for Thursday.

The printers, described by a management source as a key union in settling the strike, are seeking a wage hike of $15 a week in a two-year contract, while the publishers have offered an $8.50 package spread over two years.

Negotiations with the striking Mailers Union are to be resumed Tuesday afternoon.

Talks with the Teamsters and Machinists, the other unions on strike, are scheduled for Wednesday. Representatives of the publishers and the Building Service Union also are to negotiate Wednesday.

The Photoengravers Union is scheduled to have an all-day session with publishers' negotiators Friday.

Hospital Chief Dies

FAIRBORN, Ohio (AP)—The commander of the big 250-bed hospital at nearby Wright-Patterson Air Force Base died Sunday of a heart attack. He was 49-year-old Col. Frank Perri.

Business Pulsetakers Confounded

NEW YORK (AP)—Contradictory readings on the direction of the nation's economy are confounding business pulsetakers.

And if this added up to a muddy picture, there were few signs of haste among the economic doctors in Washington to clarify it by prescribing medicines urged by President Kennedy, notably income tax revision.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., Senate majority leader, chided his colleagues for wasting time on secondary matters, and urged them to buckle down to legislating. Mansfield said six weeks had been lost.

Perhaps the brightest development occurred in steel, but even a smart rise in production for the second straight week in this basic industry had its shadowy side.

The pickup in mill activity, amounting to nearly 10 per cent in the last two weeks, was spurred by stockpiling of big users as a hedge against possible labor-management conflict this summer.

Inventory building now thus may produce a corresponding slackening in demand later on when the inventories are consumed.

Typical of the cross-currents was a General Motors decision to pile up a one-million-ton reserve of steel by July 30, coupled with announcement of an economy-spurring program to lay out $1.3 billion for plants, equipment and special tools.

A round of price-cutting on stainless steel products touched off by U.S. Steel was another disquieting factor.

Another note of optimism injected by disclosure of record 1962 earnings by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. was offset somewhat by declines reported by U.S. Rubber Co. and other companies.

The stock market wobbled uncertainly, but gave ground most of the time.

During the week sales on the exchange fell to a total of 16,945,955 from 22,608,490 a week earlier. Bond sales on the stock exchange for the latest week also dropped, totaling $21,745,000—par value—against $33,591,200 the week before.

Personal income rose a bit to a rate of $452.4 billion a year in January, but only with the help of a $2-billion disbursement in GI life insurance dividends, a one-shot influence.

On the disappointing side was word that housing starts in January dropped 15 per cent from December to an annual rate of 1,242,000. Previously, retail sales and factory payrolls were reported down.

In other bad news, the government officially estimated last year's unfavorable balance of international payments at $2.2 billion a good deal higher level than had been hoped for in early 1962.

And automobile production, a particularly buoying influence in the economy for more than a year, was slated during the week for the lowest level since last September during the 1963 model changeover.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

For the second time in a little over 24 hours, a band of light snow was spreading from west to east over Ohio.

The latest band of snow is expected to total two to four inches over the central portions of the state with lesser amounts to the north and south. The snow is expected to end in all sections by evening.

Temperatures at daybreak this morning ranged from 13 at Youngstown to 28 at Chesapeake. Dayton had 21, Toledo 20, Columbus 19, Cleveland 16 and Marietta 23.

Skies are expected to partially clear over the state tonight. Cold temperatures are expected the next five days.

Scattered light snow flurries are likely anytime through next Saturday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO—Temperatures will average 12 to 15 degrees below normal. Normal high 37-43, normal low 21-25. Very cold Tuesday and Wednesday, slow moderation toward end of week. Precipitation will average less than two-tenths of an inch melted as scattered snow flurries tonight and Tuesday, again last part of week.

SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average 12 to 15 degrees below normal. Normal high 42-50 low 25-30. Cold beginning of period, only minor day-to-day changes rest of week. Precipitation will average one-tenth to three-tenths of an inch melted in occasional periods of light snow.

Bare-Handed Catch

THREE BRIDGES, N. J. (AP)—Bobby Vander Wiele was the proud possessor of the biggest fish he ever saw — and he caught it with his own hands.

The fish, a 46-inch striped bass, was struggling feebly in the little nameless brook that runs through the family's farm. Bobby, 11, just waded in and heaved it up in his arms.

How such a large bass ever got into a little creek was a mystery.

Bobby said it didn't matter to him where his catch came from—he was having it mounted.

SPACE BALLOON EXPLODES—A series of blasts destroy an $8,000, giant, unmanned, space exploration balloon while it is being inflated with helium gas at Palestine, Tex., for a trip above Earth's atmosphere to study Mars. No one was injured. Scientists said another balloon will be obtained.

Steel Shipping Running High

Auto Stockpiling Due To Taper Off

CLEVELAND (AP)—Even with stockpiling by automakers expected to be light next month, March steel shipments will increase 15 per cent to the highest level since last April, Steel Magazine predicted today.

Consumer inventories will reflect 500,000 tons of the expected 6.7 million-ton increase in shipments, the metalworking weekly said.

Automakers are getting set to accelerate in the second quarter their hedging against the threat of a steel strike, the magazine said. Non-automotive customers haven't started hedging. They're still buying for immediate consumption, the publication stated.

"Economic conditions are better than expected and steel is being consumed at a surprisingly fast pace; users in seasonally affected industries like canning and construction are stepping up their purchases because they know their requirements will soar when the weather moderates; inventory liquidation is grinding to a halt; some users are starting to hedge against the threat of a steel strike."

Steel distributors have seen a moderate sales pickup, the magazine said, but they're not building inventories.

The trade journal predicts ingot production this week will be slightly higher than the 2.1 million tons it estimates was poured last week, when mills operated at 65 per cent of capacity.

Woman Killed, Man Turns Gun on Himself

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati woman was shot and killed in her home late Sunday night by a man who afterwards turned the 12-gauge shotgun on himself, police reported.

Officers identified the dead woman as Mrs. Gloria Lovette, 35, and said the gun-wielder, George Berry, 53, was in serious condition after wounding himself.

Little Ahead of Time

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Gov. Henry Bellmon didn't give up the early-to-rise phase of his life when he left his huge farm to become Oklahoma's first Republican chief executive.

On one of the first days of his new administration, he got to the Capitol before dawn to find the building virtually deserted. He had to wait awhile before someone could be found to open his own suite of offices.

Eventually he got his own key.

Whiskey Rebellion Victory Seen Aid To Ohio Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio may have turned the financial corner in winning its own "whiskey rebellion."

Finance Director Richard Krabach not only withstood high-pressure demands by the state monopoly's biggest supplier for immediate payment of more than $9 million in back bills.

He won agreement from officials of Schenley Distillers Inc., that they would stand in line with other suppliers while the state took two years to pay off $44.5 million in liquor debts, due last year.

Krabach created a stir in the liquor industry by threatening to halt sale of Schenley products in state stores unless that firm went along with others under Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes' austerity program.

That program calls for the state to balance expenditures with revenues and pay off some $80 million in debts, including liquor bills, Krabach said were inherited from Democrat Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's administration. Others have asserted back obligations might exceed $100 million.

The capitulation of Schenley, lone holdout of the agreement, paved the way for modification of an injunction obtained by other suppliers to limit use of state liquor profits to debt payment.

The agreement allows the state to draw $25 million from its court-embargoed liquor fund to help pay school subsidies due Wednesday and to take out another $25 million next year.

The rest of an estimated $47 million in liquor profits in each of the next two years will be prorated among all suppliers to wipe out bills.

Krabach had said the agreement to split liquor profits between the state and suppliers would "keep us afloat" but that school foundation payments might be delayed if the money was unavailable.

The finance chief said the DiSalle administration drew $60 million from the liquor fund in 1961 for state operations and another $69 million last year although profits were under $45 million each year.

The injunction tying up liquor funds after DiSalle's reelection defeat last November followed reports that his administration had agreed to pay Schenley in full, leaving other suppliers holding the bag.

Schenley earlier had hired Richard Crouch after he resigned as liquor director.

Krabach said his threat to "de-

list" Schenley brands followed weeks of what he called stalling on debt settlement negotiations.

The next day seven Schenley representatives and Krabach huddled here to hammer out their agreement.

During the conference, J. Lincoln Morris of New York, Schenley counsel, said his firm received liquor payments until last November.

"We acted in good faith that we would be paid by Jan. 14," he told Krabach. That was the date on which Rhodes succeeded DiSalle as governor.

Louis B. Nichols of New York, Schenley executive vice president, chimed in to say that "the fact that we were suckers once doesn't mean we will be again."

Nichols and another vice president, W. Earle Blakeley of New York, insisted that Ohio should issue notes for immediate payment of the debt owed Schenley.

When Krabach refused, they offered to help obtain a $50 million loan for debt liquidation and were turned down again.

Krabach, after some hot exchanges, said he would stipulate that the state would stand by his agreement to pay on schedule, provided state revenues continue normal.

Isadore Topper, Columbus counsel for Schenley, said during the conference that he was unaware of the extent of liquor fund withdrawals in 1961. "I wish I had known in 1961 what they were doing," he said.

"Liquor Department statements have never been made available generally to the public," he explained.

"We have this problem but we didn't create it," Krabach observed. "We are going to balance the budget. I have got to operate the state with $44 million less than I would have had if they hadn't spent the money."

Thomas J. Hanson of New York, Schenley assistant treasurer, said his figures didn't agree with those of Krabach. But after a later check with Liquor Department officials, he termed them in line and attorneys went to work on the stipulation.

They indicated it would be filed here probably Monday in appellate court which issued the injunction, barring any hitch.

Schenley Board Chairman Lewis Rosenstiel was reported less than enthusiastic about the agreement when he learned of it in London. Engand. He promptly flew to New York for a review over the weekend.

Shrimp Recipes For Various Gourmet Dishes

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

If you want to serve shrimp in a hurry, serve shrimp in a can. No shelling, deveining or cooking! It's practically ready to eat or to add its excellent flavor to a variety of quickly-assembled recipes.

There's just one preparation step involved:

After you open the shrimp can, be sure you drain and rinse the shrimp for the briny liquid, which holds the flavor and lasting qualities of canned shrimp is too salty for most tastes.

Drain, rinse and then regard the possibilities. They're countless. Canned shrimp makes it possible to assemble gourmet dishes in no time at all, as today's recipes prove.

JEFFY SHRIMP JAMBALAYA

2 (4½-oz.) cans shrimp
3 tbs. butter or margarine
2 c. stewed tomatoes
¼ tsp. garlic powder
½ c. water
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. cayenne
1 bay leaf
½ tsp. crushed thyme
2 tsp. parsley flakes
1-1½ c. precooked rice
Drain and rinse shrimp.
Melt butter in heavy pan; saute the shrimp for about 2 min.
Add all ingredients, except rice. Bring to boiling; stir in rice. Remove from heat. Cover pan. Let stand 10 to 15 min.
Serves 4.

SHRIMP EGG CREPES

1 (4½-oz.) can shrimp
1 tbs. butter
8 eggs, beaten
4 tsp. cooking oil
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
¼ tsp. hot pepper sauce
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1-1½ c. grated mild Cheddar cheese
Drain and rinse shrimp; heat in melted butter.
Add all ingredients except cheese to beaten eggs.
Place griddle over high heat; oil lightly, using absorbent paper to take up excess.
Cook "crepes" one at a time. For each, pour 1-3 c. egg mixture over griddle.
Turn heat low. Sprinkle with 1-3 c. cheese. When cheese begins to melt, place a few shrimp in row across center of "crepe". Fold opposite edges of crepe across shrimp. Cook a minute longer. Remove to heated platter.
Makes 4 crepes.

SHRIMP WIGGLE

1 (4½-oz.) cans shrimp
4 tbs. butter or margarine
4 tbs. flour
3 c. milk
1 tsp. instant onion
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. celery salt
½ tsp. grated lemon peel
1 tsp. monosodium glutamate
1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
1 c. green peas, cooked
Drain and rinse shrimp.
Melt butter; blend in flour; add milk all at once. Add all seasonings except lemon juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add shrimp and peas; heat.
Remove from heat; stir in lemon juice. Serve on toast.
Serves 6.

PICKLED SHRIMP

2 (4½-oz.) cans shrimp
1 pkg. salad dressing mix (any flavor)
½ c. wine vinegar
1-3 c. olive oil
3 tbs. water
Drain and rinse shrimp.
Combine mix, vinegar, oil water. Pour over shrimp.
Marinate 1 hr. in refrigerator. Serve on toothpicks or on buttered rounds of bread as hors d'oeuvres. Serves 6.

Logan Elm GC To Meet

Logan Elm Garden Club will meet 1:30 p. m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Lawrence McKenzie, Route 4. Mrs. Wayne Morris will be co-hostess.

This will be a combined January and February meeting.

Dear Abby: Memo to Teen-Agers

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You hear a lot about teen-agers going wrong. Here's the other side of the story: I am a male, age 20, and I have a four-year-old son to support. I've never been married. I went with a nice 16-year-old girl and we thought we were in love. We got serious and before we knew it we had gone further than we had intended to. I would have married her but I was scared. And I didn't want to be tied down at the age of 16. Annie (not her real name) died nine months later in the delivery room. She left me and her parents with a ten-pound bundle. Her last wish was for me to take care of the baby. Annie was a wonderful girl. I have been running from the idea that I killed her ever since. I joined the Army to forget but I can't. I haven't dated a girl since. I don't think I ever will. Annie's parents are raising the boy and I still haven't the courage to face them and ask them to forgive me. Abby, please keep preaching to teen-agers that playing with grown-up ideas is asking for trouble.

Concoct Pork And Peaches For a Treat

By ALICE DENHOFF

Just the glimpse of a can of cling canned peaches on the shelf is enough to send us off on a cooking spree of our favorite pork and peaches concoction.

Here's the recipe to serve 4-6.

SWEET SOUR PORK WITH PEACHES

1½ lbs. lean pork leg or shoulder, cut into 2½-in. strips
2 tbs. shortening
½ c. water
½ tsp. salt
¾ green pepper, cut into strips
½ c. thinly sliced onion rings
1 can (1 lb.) cling peach slices and syrup
2 tbs. cornstarch
2½ tbs. (Packed) brown sugar
¼ c. vinegar
1 tbs. soy or Worcestershire sauce
Brown pork in hot shortening. Add water and salt; cover and simmer 1 hr.
Drain excess fat; add green pepper and onion rings; simmer 5 min.
Meanwhile, drain peaches, reserving syrup. Measure syrup and add water to make 1 c.
Stir in cornstarch, brown sugar, vinegar and soy or Worcestershire sauce. Combine with meat mixture.
Heat until slightly thickened; add peaches and heat 3-4 min. Delicious!

If you enjoy a pretty and tasty chilled gelatin mold, you might like to try this one sometime. It has appetizing appeal and serves 8.

PICQUANT PEACH SALAD

1 pkg. (3 oz.) lemon gelatin
¼ c. hot water
3 tbs. lemon juice
½ tsp. grated onion
¼ tsp. salt
1 medium-sized grapefruit
1 can canned cling peach slices
1 c. cottage cheese
1 tsp. diced pimiento
Salad greens
Mayonnaise
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Stir in lemon juice, onion and salt. Cool.
Pare and section grapefruit. Drain peaches thoroughly.
Add grapefruit and peaches to half gelatin mixture and turn into individual molds, filling about ½ full. Chill.
Fold cottage cheese and pimiento into remaining mixture.
Spoon over fruit layer and chill until firm.
Unmold on greens and serve with mayonnaise.

PEACH ALMOND WHIP

1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese
2 tsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. lemon rind
½ c. apple or quince jelly
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. almond extract
1 c. whipping cream
1 tsp. plain gelatin
2 tbs. cold water
1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) cling peach halves
Chill until firm.
Drain peaches and place in sherbet dishes.
Fill peach cups generously with cream mixture and decorate with almonds. Makes about 6 servings of a delightful and elegant party-type dessert.

SINGLE FATHER

DEAR FATHER: For every girl who gets "in trouble", there is a boy. But seldom does one have the courage to step forward and take the blame. If your letter makes one boy or girl think twice — it's worth the space in this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY: Tell the woman who can't watch television during the day because her husband takes a tube out of the set before he goes to work in the mornings to take another tube out after he leaves. So when he comes home at night and replaces the tube he took out so HE can watch television, it still won't work.

SANDY

DEAR SANDY: And what has she gained? Then neither of them will be able to watch it. You remind me of the man who drilled a hole in the bottom of the boat so the other guy would sink.

DEAR ABBY: Be fair and print this for "BACHELOR GIRL, AGE 32". First of all, the assumption that widows and divorcees are "common retreads and warmed over has-beens", and that all 32-year-old bachelor girls are respectable, is the biggest bunch of baloney I've heard yet. My wife was a divorcee when we met. Because of her first experience in marriage she was far more understanding, tolerant and mature than any "single" girl I'd ever gone with. We have been happily married for 12 years and have three beautiful children. I wouldn't trade my wife's discarded fingernail clippings for all the "respectable" never-married, 32-year-old bachelor girls in the world.

Mrs. Harmon Hosts Meet Of Group B

Mrs. T. D. Harmon, 325 S. Court St., was hostess to Group B, of First Presbyterian Women's Association recently. Mrs. Lyall Cryder was co-hostess.

A dessert course was served and Mrs. Henry Walters presided at a tea table decorated with spring flowers.

Mrs. Thomas Downing, chairman, made several announcements. Mrs. Lawrence Thornton urged members to bring old Christmas cards and nylon stockings to be used for the blind and widows in Japan.

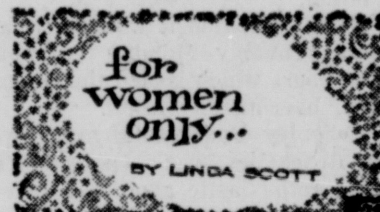

Mrs. Cryer explained the meaning of the fellowship of the least. Mrs. Kenneth Luna presented the program stressing the idea that the deliverance from Egypt was the most significant event in the history of Israel. From this time on, she said, the Israelites were "Chosen People." he emphasized that God continued to be bound to his people in a covenant relationship.

Mrs. Philip Hardy centered devotionals on an explanation of World Day of Prayer and urged members to attend Mar. 1.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cook, Byesville, O., former residents of Circleville, observed their 50th wedding anniversary yesterday with open house held in the Harmony Lutheran Church Parish House at Buffalo, O. Local residents attending included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Betz and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eccard.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gentzel and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mavis of E. Mound St., have returned from a tour through the southern states. While in Florida they visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Radcliff of Ft. Lauderdale; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frazier of Ft. Myers; Mr. and Mrs. J. Wray Henry of St. Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heise and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Heise and family of Lockbourne, O., in the home of Dr. Ronald Heise in Sarasota. They also enjoyed a picnic in Lowery Park, Tampa, with the Rev. and Mrs. Marion Sensenbrenner and daughter. Others from Circleville attending the picnic were Mr. and Mrs. Mason Klingensmith, Merl Klingensmith, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Martin and Mr. and Mrs. George Dennis.

If heavy pieces of costume jewelry pull on your dresses, try placing a small circle of felt underneath the fabric and pinning through it.

Lots of children at home? Here's a shortcut to lighten your work. Use large plastic wastebaskets to act as clothes hampers in each bedroom and label them with names. On wash days, each child can bring his hamper to the laundry. After washing, put clean clothes in the hampers and let the children carry them back to their rooms.

Shrimp Recipes For Various Gourmet Dishes

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

If you want to serve shrimp in a hurry, serve shrimp in a can. No shelling, deveining or cooking! It's practically ready to eat or to add its excellent flavor to a variety of quickly-assembled recipes. There's just one preparation step involved:

After you open the shrimp can, be sure you drain and rinse the shrimp for the briny liquid, which holds the flavor and lasting qualities of canned shrimp is too salty for most tastes.

Drain, rinse and then regard the possibilities. They're countless. Canned shrimp makes it possible to assemble gourmet dishes in no time at all, as today's recipes prove.

JEFFY SHRIMP JAMBALAYA

2 (4½-oz.) cans shrimp
3 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 c. stewed tomatoes
¼ tsp. garlic powder
1 c. water
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. cayenne
1 bay leaf
½ tsp. crushed thyme
2 tsp. parsley flakes
1-1½ c. precooked rice
Drain and rinse shrimp.
Melt butter in heavy pan; saute the shrimp for about 2 min.
Add all ingredients, except rice. Bring to boiling; stir in rice. Remove from heat. Cover pan. Let stand 10 to 15 min.
Serves 4.

SHRIMP EGG CREPES

1 (4½-oz.) can shrimp
1 tsp. butter
8 eggs, beaten
4 tsp. cooking oil
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
¼ tsp. hot pepper sauce
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1-1½ c. grated mild Cheddar cheese
Drain and rinse shrimp; heat in melted butter.
Add all ingredients except cheese to beaten eggs.
Place griddle over high heat; oil lightly, using absorbent paper to take up excess.

Cook "crepes" one at a time. For each, pour 1-3 c. egg mixture over griddle.
Turn heat low. Sprinkle with 1-3 c. cheese. When cheese begins to melt, place a few shrimp in row across center of "crepe". Fold opposite edges of crepe across shrimp. Cook a minute longer. Remove to heated platter. Makes 4 crepes.

SHRIMP WIGGLE

1 (4½-oz.) cans shrimp
4 tbsp. butter or margarine
4 tsp. flour
3 c. milk
1 tsp. instant onion
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ ts. celery salt
½ tsp. grated lemon peel
1 tsp. monosodium glutamate
1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
1 c. green peas, cooked
Drain and rinse shrimp.
Melt butter; blend in flour; add milk all at once, add all seasonings except lemon juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add shrimp and peas; heat.
Remove from heat; stir in lemon juice. Serve on toast.
Serves 6.

PICKLED SHRIMP

2 (4½-oz.) cans shrimp
1 pkg. salad dressing mix (any flavor)
½ c. wine vinegar
1-3 c. olive oil
3 tsp. water
Drain and rinse shrimp.
Combine mix, vinegar, oil water. Pour over shrimp.
Marinate 1 hr. in refrigerator.
Serve on toothpicks or on buttered rounds of bread as hors d'oeuvres. Serves 6.

TV Vikings Down Fairfield Union In Tourney Tilt

By Steve Jones
Teays Valley trailing Fairfield Union almost the entire second half, knotted the score, 57-57, at the end of regulation play and went on to win 63-57 in the first overtime Saturday in the Central District Class AA basketball tournament at Columbus.

The game was forced into overtime when Duane Sheets dumped a field goal with a 1:16 showing on the clock.

Fairfield Union stalled the ball, planning to take a final shot, but with less than 10 seconds remaining a tenacious Viking defense forced a turnover.

Sonny Roof came up with the ball, fired a last shot at the basket from about 35 feet out. But it bounced harmlessly off the back of the rim and the game went into an extra period.

LARRY BEARD put the Vikings ahead in the overtime with a pair of foul shots just after the period started, giving Teays Valley a quick advantage.

Thomas Named To All-America 55-Player Team

Circleville's bruising football end, Clesson Thomas, is still reaping gridiron honors — the latest a berth on the 15th annual Prep All-America grid squad announced in the February issue of Coach and Athlete Magazine this week.

This annual selection was originated in 1947 by the late Mose Simms. It has gained acceptance and prestige as the original and authentic prep All-America Football Squad.

The 1962 All-America unit is composed of 55 players, representing the best high school gridiron talent from Maine to California. It was selected by a poll of the high school football coaches in all 50 states, college recruiters and sportswriters and sportscasters from every section of the country.

Thirty-five states are represented on the talent-laden squad with Ohio and California each placing four men.

THOMAS will receive an appropriate plaque certifying his selection. Standing 6-2 and weighing 220 pounds, he was one of the biggest players selected at end.

One other Ohio lad, Dick Himes of Canton South, was named to an end position. At 6-4 and 225 pounds, he was the only player larger than Thomas.

Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Thomas, Route 2, was coached by Jim Lint, Circleville end and tackle mentor. He, along with Garold Dade, the Tigers' fabulous halfback, received honorable mention on an earlier All-American team.

Darby Defeated In 57-41 Bout With CW Unit

The Darby Trojans were dumped from the tournament trail Saturday night by Canal Winchester in a 57-41 battle in the Teays Valley gymnasium.

The Winchester Indians in winning their first tournament game showed good ability at hitting the long shots.

They sank 22 field goals, 10 of them coming from 15 feet out. They tallied 56 per cent from the charity stripe.

The Trojans hit only 14 field goals. But the losers netted a whopping 76 per cent of their foul shots, connecting on 13 of 17 attempts.

DARBY started fast and ended in good form, though losing to the rugged Indians. The Trojans drew first blood as Jeff Tracy sank a quick charity toss. Ten seconds later, Canal Winchester tied it when Scott Guiler aced a free one.

In the next two minutes Darby managed three points while the cold Indians settled for a charity toss. With two minutes remaining in the first period, Darby held a 7-2 edge.

But then the Indians, having been held scoreless for more than two minutes, exploded for seven big points and led at the end of the first period, 9 to 7, a lead they never relinquished. The second period was completely dominated by Canal Winchester.

It was all Darby could do to get two field goals and three foul shots. At the half the Indians led 21 to 14.

The Trojans were never in contention after the first period, although they started hitting better in the last quarter, mainly on drives and tips.

By the end of the third quarter, Canal Winchester showed a 33 point spread, 38 to 25.

IN THE fourth period the rout continued. Darby's Dave Rowland hit a hot streak in the closing minutes but Canal Winchester was too far out front to be overtaken.

High for the Ned Reichelderfer coached Trojans was Tracy with 16 counters. He sank five field goals and six free throws. He made all his field goals on layups. Following him were Rowland and Danny Bowen, both with eight counters.

Next was Chuck Caudill with five and Kenny Drummond and Charlie Brown, both with two.

The win entitles Canal Winchester to battle the Monroe Indians Saturday at 8:30 p. m. in the Teays Valley Gym.

CHUCK MILLER, playing in the place of the flu-weakened Hollenback, turned in a solid defensive performance and scored five points.

Larry Beard, the Vikings' slender pivot man popped in nine field goals and five of eight charity tosses to pace the scoring attack with 23 big points.

Sonny Roof connected on eight-of-eight charity tosses and added three field goals for a 14 point effort in the win and Larry Leist scored 13 markers as three Vikings hit the double figure column. Duane Sheets, who scored the game tying bucket, finished with eight.

Gregg stayed with his starting five of Roof, Sheets, Beard, Leist and Miller throughout most of the game except for a short period in the second quarter when Dave Roese replaced Roof who picked up his third personal in the first half.

A total of 29 personal fouls was called in the game, 11 against Teays Valley and 18 against Fairfield Union.

District Class A tournament at Teays Valley Saturday night.

Although three Pickaway County schools were involved in games Saturday, the crowd had dwindled by the time the Monroe tilt started at 9:30 p. m. It was the last of the three tilts played.

The 2,000 plus capacity Teays Valley gymnasium has not yet been filled during the sectional tournament. However, with the second round getting under way this weekend the crowds should swell.

Monroe and Berne Union fought on fairly even terms until about three minutes remained to play in the first half.

THE INDIANS held a one to two point edge for the first 13 minutes. The Dick Everman's squad started to pull away.

By halftime the Pickaway Countians had built their margin to seven points. The score was 27-20. With two minutes remaining in the third period the Indians were on top, 40-26.

Then the Rockets from Fairfield county started to surge forward. By the three-quarter mark they were within eight points. After six minutes of play in the final quarter they had narrowed Monroe's lead to 47-44.

THE INDIANS were ahead by five with a minute and a half to go. But they had to rely on foul shots to provide a safe margin in the final seconds.

Tom Seeley sparked the Monroe win with 19 points on six field goals and seven charity tosses.

Mickey Hunt, just recovered from a bout with the flu, notched five field goals and eight charity tosses for 18 points and Jim Shell contributed 13 to the well balanced Monroe offense. Bob Sparks added four and Gene Long one.

BOTH TEAMS scored 36 points from the field. Each had a nearly equal number of chances at the charity stripe.

A total of 33 personal fouls were called—16 against Monroe and 17 against Berne Union.

The Indians connected on 19 charity attempts. Berne Union hit 12.

High man for the losers was Steve Couch who tallied 12 points on five field goals and two charity tosses.

Bill Groves and Jim Dicken tallied ten each, Mac McGrew nine Ken Staten one and Bob Miller one.

Saturday at 8:30 p. m. Monroe meets Canal Winchester, 57-41 winner over Darby in the second game played Saturday night.

Carroll Quint in 55-40 Win Over Jackson

Jackson Twp. High School was dumped 55-40 by Carroll Saturday night in the Class A sectional basketball tournament at Teays Valley High School.

The Wildcats handed second seeded Carroll more than was bargained for during the first three periods. But they finally succumbed to the Fairfield county team's superior height.

The Wildcats opened by playing a controlled, deliberate game. Carroll was content to try that style for 2½ periods.

In the second half the Fairfield County unit switched to a fast-breaking shooting type of game, relying on taller rebounders to clear the boards both offensively and defensively.

JACKSON was behind only one point, 16-15, at halftime. Just after the third period started the Wildcats went on top and stayed there until Carroll knotted the score at 25-25 with exactly two minutes of playing time showing on the clock.

In the last two minutes of the quarter the winners popped through eight points while Jackson went scoreless.

Teays Valley trailing Fairfield Union almost the entire second half, knotted the score, 57-57, at the end of regulation play and went on to win 63-57 in the first overtime Saturday in the Central District Class AA basketball tournament at Columbus.

The game was forced into overtime when Duane Sheets dumped a field goal with a 1:16 showing on the clock. Fairfield Union stalled the ball, planning to take a final shot, but with less than 10 seconds remaining a tenacious Viking defense forced a turnover.

Sonny Roff came up with the ball, fired a last shot at the basket from about 35 feet out. But it bounced harmlessly off the back of the rim and the game went into an extra period.

Thomas Named To All-America 55-Player Team

Circleville's bruising football end, Clesson Thomas, is still reaping gridiron honors — the latest a berth on the 15th annual Prep All-America grid squad announced in the February issue of Coach and Athlete Magazine this week.

This annual selection was originated in 1947 by the late Mose Simms. It has gained acceptance and prestige as the original and authentic prep All-America Football Squad.

The 1962 All-America unit is composed of 55 players, representing the best high school gridiron talent from Maine to California. It was selected by a poll of the high school football coaches in all 50 states, college recruiters and sportswriters and sportscasters from every section of the country.

Thirty-five states are represented on the talent-laden squad with Ohio and California each placing four men.

THOMAS will receive an appropriate plaque certifying his selection. Standing 6-2 and weighing 220 pounds, he was one of the biggest players selected at end.

A turnover by Fairfield Union gave the Pickaway County cagers the ball immediately after and they went into a stall, taking a shot with 1:30 showing on the clock. The attempt was wide of its mark but Sonny Roff rebounded his own shot and was fouled. He connected on both tosses at the charity stripe and the Vikings were on top 61-57. The clock showed exactly one minute and 23 seconds of playing time remaining.

The losers came back down the floor, shot, missed and Teays Valley came down with the rebound. The quintet from Fairfield County then committed a third personal foul in the overtime but this time the Vikings could not connect on the charity toss.

Seconds later the losers fired away again, missed and the Vikings again controlled the boards. Going back into a stall, Duane Sheets was fouled, and with 28 seconds remaining the Teays Valley senior connected on the pair of charity tosses that really put the game out of reach for the Fairfield Union quintet.

The contest was close throughout the entire 32 minutes of regulation play as well as in the overtime.

THE VIKINGS trailed in the early minutes, 3-0. They took their first lead with 1:32 showing but their opponents tied the game and went ahead 11-9 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second canto the score was tied five times and the lead changed hands four times. By halftime the losers held a 28-26 lead.

In the final two periods Teays Valley held the lead once, midway through the final period.

At times in the third quarter the Vikings were down by as many as five points.

Pickaway County's newest addition to the ranks of the class AA schools in Ohio exhibited a characteristic common of all Russ Gregg coached teams—they came through when the pressure was on and produced a win.

The Vikings played without the services of ace forward Danny Hollenback, Hollenback, suffering from the flu, had missed school all week, and was still affected by the bug.

CHUCK MILLER, playing in the place of the flu-weakened Hollenback, turned in a solid defensive performance and scored five points.

Larry Beard, the Vikings' slender pivot man popped in nine field goals and five of eight charity tosses to pace the scoring attack with 23 big points.

Sonny Roff connected on eight-of-eight charity tosses and added three field goals for a 14 point effort in the win and Larry Leist scored 13 markers as three Vikings hit the double figure column. Duane Sheets, who scored the game tying bucket, finished with eight.

Gregg stayed with his starting five of Roff, Sheets, Beard, Leist and Miller throughout most of the game except for a short period in the second quarter when Dave Roese replaced Roff who picked up his third personal in the first half.

A total of 29 personal fouls was called in the game, 11 against Teays Valley and 18 against Fairfield Union.

The Darby Trojans were dumped from the tournament trail Saturday night by Canal Winchester in a 57-41 battle in the Teays Valley gymnasium.

The Winchester Indians in winning their first tournament game showed good ability at hitting the long shots.

They sank 22 field goals, 10 of them coming from 15 feet out. They tallied 56 per cent from the charity stripe.

The Trojans hit only 14 field goals. But the losers netted a whopping 76 per cent of their foul shots, connecting on 13 of 17 attempts.

DARBY started fast and ended in good form, though losing to the rugged Indians. The Trojans drew first blood as Jeff Tracy sank a quick charity toss. Ten seconds later, Canal Winchester tied it when Scott Guiler aced a free one.

In the next two minutes Darby managed three points while the cold Indians settled for a charity toss. With two minutes remaining in the first period, Darby held a 7-2 edge.

But then the Indians, having been held scoreless for more than two minutes, exploded for seven big points and led at the end of the first period, 9 to 7, a lead they never relinquished. The second period was completely dominated by Canal Winchester.

It was all Darby could do to get two field goals and three foul shots. At the half the Indians led 21 to 14.

The Trojans were never in contention after the first period, although they started hitting better in the last quarter, mainly on drives and tips.

By the end of the third quarter, Canal Winchester showed a 13 point spread, 38 to 25.

IN THE fourth period the rout continued. Darby's Dave Rowland hit a hot streak in the closing minutes but Canal Winchester was too far out front to be overtaken.

High for the Ned Reichelderfer coached Trojans was Tracy with 16 counters. He sank five field goals and six free throws. He made all his field goals on layups.

Following him were Rowland and Danny Bowen, both with eight counters.

Next was Chuck Caudill with five and Kenny Drummond and Charlie Brown, both with two.

The win entitles Canal Winchester to battle the Monroe Indians Saturday at 8:30 p. m. in the Teays Valley Gym.

Monroe built up a 14-point lead in the third quarter, then withstood a last period rally by Berne Union to win 55-48 in the Central District Class A tournament at Teays Valley Saturday night.

Although three Pickaway County schools were involved in games Saturday, the crowd had dwindled by the time the Monroe tilt started at 9:30 p. m. It was the last of the three tilts played.

The 2,000 plus capacity Teays Valley gymnasium has not yet been filled during the sectional tournament. However, with the second round getting under way this weekend the crowds should swell.

Monroe and Berne Union fought on fairly even terms until about three minutes remained to play in the first half.

THE INDIANS held a one to two point edge for the first 13 minutes. The Dick Everman's squad started to pull away.

By halftime the Pickaway Countians had built their margin to seven points. The score was 27-20. With two minutes remaining in the third period the Indians were on top, 40-26.

Then the Rockets from Fairfield county started to surge forward. By the three-quarter mark they were within eight points.

After six minutes of play in the final quarter they had narrowed Monroe's lead to 47-44.

The Indians were ahead by five with a minute and a half to go. But they had to rely on foul shots to provide a safe margin in the final seconds.

Tom Seeley sparked the Monroe win with 19 points on six field goals and seven charity tosses.

Mickey Hunt, just recovered from a bout with the flu, notched five field goals and eight charity tosses for 18 points and Jim Shell contributed 13 to the well balanced Monroe offense. Bob Sparks added four and Gene Long one.

BOTH TEAMS scored 36 points from the field. Each had a nearly equal number of chances at the charity stripe.

A total of 33 personal fouls were called — 16 against Monroe and 17 against Berne Union.

The Indians connected on 19 charity attempts. Berne Union hit 12.

High man for the losers was Steve Coach who tallied 12 points on five field goals and two charity tosses.

Bill Groves and Jim Dicken tallied ten each. Mac McGrew nine Ken Staten one and Bob Miller one.

Saturday at 8:30 p. m. Monroe meets Canal Winchester, 57-41 winner over Darby in the second game played Saturday night.

Carroll Quint in 55-40 Win Over Jackson

Jackson Twp. High School was downed 55-40 by Carroll Saturday night in the Class A sectional basketball tournament at Teays Valley High School.

The Wildcats handed second seeded Carroll more than was bargained for during the first three periods. But they finally succumbed to the Fairfield county team's superior height.

The Wildcats opened by playing a controlled, deliberate game. Carroll was content to try that style for 2½ periods.

In the second half the Fairfield County unit switched to a fast-breaking shooting type of game, relying on taller rebounders to clear the boards both offensively and defensively.

JACKSON was behind only one point, 16-15, at halftime. Just after the third period started the the Wildcats went on top and stayed there until Carroll knotted the score at 25-25 with exactly two minutes of playing time showing on the clock.

In the last two minutes of the quarter the winners popped through eight points while Jackson went scoreless.

FROM THE field the Jackson quintet connected on 38 per cent of its field goals and came down with 25 rebounds.

Jackson hit only six charity tosses, although the Wildcats didn't have as many attempts as did the Carroll quintet which connected on 15.

High man for the winners was David Woolever with 20 points. Fred Snider scored 10 and Francis Woods notched 11.

Carroll meets Williamsport in the first game Saturday at Teays Valley. The Deers drew a bye in the first round of play.

Referees Thomas and Milensnich

Ed Martindale tallied 13 points to pace the losers. The southpaw guard has been the leading scorer on the Jackson quintet all season.

Steve Neff was second in the scoring column with 10. Clark Maughmer hit for six and Morris Bates and Dwight Whaley tallied four each.

"We knew we couldn't run with them," said Jackson coach Paul Hoskins following the game. "We started playing a slow game getting the good shots against their 1-3-1 zone and we could have stayed with them if they hadn't started running."

Centralia Wins Ross Tournament

Centralia, sparked by senior guard Jack Conley's 28 points romped to a 67-54 victory over Bucks and the Ross County championship in the new Ellis B. Hatton gymnasium at Chillicothe Saturday.

Kingston downed Southeastern 67-54 in the consolation tilt. Bob Sigler, in his second year as head coach at Centralia High School, was particularly elated over winning the first tournament held in the gymnasium.

Sigler was a graduate of Chillicothe High School and a student of Hatton, the gymnasium's namesake.

Although in only his second year at the helm on the Centralia varsity, he has been at the school for six years and coached the seniors on the team since their junior high years. He was reserve coach before going on to the top job.

"THE BOYS played a real good ball game with very few mistakes. It was strictly a team effort, although Conley was outstanding," Sigler said when reporting the game.

Centralia went on top early, scoring the first two points of the ball game and stayed there all the way.

The score was 17-15 at the end of the first quarter, 32-25 at half-time and 46-36 as the final period started.

Sophomore Glenn Burchwell tallied 16 points for Centralia and Tom Breeden tallied 12.

Both Burchwell and Conley were members of the all tournament team picked by the press and radio covering the tournament. Three members of the Bucks team were also named on the ten man team. They were Speakman, Johnson and Buck. The latter two scored 21 and 22 points respectively to pace their schools to the scoring.

Centralia finished second in the Ross County League and won their own holiday tourney.

The next step on the win or out trail for the Bulldogs is the sectional tournament at Pikeston. Three teams from Ross County make the trip. Besides the two county tourney finalists, the county league winner, Paint Valley, participates. Pikeston adds one team to the event and Highland County sends two.

List of Challengers Grows, King Cincinnati Is Warned

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati has won its shot at a third consecutive national college basketball championship and the line of challengers to the mighty Bearcats is gradually growing longer.

Arizona State, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and Texas captured conference titles Saturday night with them, automatic berths in the NCAA tournament. In addition, all 10 at-large spots in the coast-to-coast classic have been filled, with Pitt clinching the last one Saturday night.

Still to be settled in the closing two weeks of the regular season are no less than 11 conference races, with NCAA trips contingent upon each.

Arizona State's fourth-ranked Sun Devils won the first Western Athletic Conference title, winning at home against New Mexico 72-62 while Utah was erasing Brigham Young's chances, 106-100 in overtime.

Laker Fans Bark Shins Of Referee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some Los Angeles pro basketball fans apparently aren't content with deriding the referee when their team loses.

Take Sunday night in Los Angeles when the invading Boston Celtics routed the Lakers 119-109 in the National Basketball Association. At halftime with Boston ahead 66-51 some in the crowd of 14,828 trapped referee Norm Drucker near the dressing room. He was mauled and kicked in the shins before rescued by police.

Drucker said he wasn't hurt enough to keep him from officiating in the second half. He had been roundly booed by some Laker rooters because of calls they thought favored the Celtics.

In NBA Sunday afternoon games the Detroit Pistons beat the Cincinnati Royals 119-110 at Baltimore, the St. Louis Hawks drubbed the San Francisco Warriors 127-106 and the Syracuse Knicks whipped the New York Knicks 143-126. Detroit beat Cincinnati 105-102 and San Francisco downed Chicago 92-88 Saturday night.

The champion Celtics piled up a 30-point lead on the Lakers at 94-64 before Coach Red Auerbach pulled his regulars and Los Angeles scored 16 straight points.

St. Joseph's swept its fifth straight Middle Atlantic crown with a 66-49 victory over LaSalle, at the Philadelphia Palestra, Texas' 92-76 decision at Southern Methodist and Texas Tech's 74-73 home victory over Rice combined to clinch the Southwest championship for the Longhorns.

Pitt earned the remaining NCAA at-large berth by swamping Penn State 83-67 at Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati, its Missouri Valley title already secure, had a scare at home in a 55-54 squeaker over Tulsa. The top-ranked Bearcats had to come from 14 points back in the second half to get their 21st victory in 22 starts.

Wichita, seventh-ranked and an NIT entry, was topped at Bradley 65-64 in another Missouri Valley game.

Duke's Blue Devils, No. 2 nationally, completed a perfect regular season in the Atlantic Coast Conference rapping North Carolina 106-93. Art Heyman thrilled the home crowd with 40 points and 24 rebounds as Duke won its 15th straight and finished with a 14-0 mark in the ACC.

The Southern Conference also has its three-day tourney beginning Thursday, with regular season champion West Virginia the choice. The Mountaineers crushed George Washington 104-86 Saturday night at West Virginia.

Two NCAA-bound independents in the nation's top ten posted Saturday night victories. Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago got by at Houston 62-58 and 10th-ranked New York University won at St. Francis of New York, 76-62.

Yanks Warned By Ex-Buddy

Turley Set To Steal
Signs for Angels

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—This is a warning to Whitey Ford, Ralph Terry and all the New York Yankee pitchers. Better change your mound habits. Bob Turley, your former pitching mate, now with Los Angeles, will be there "reading" you the first time the Yankees meet the Angels this year.

Turley, as Manager Ralph Houk and all his Yankees can attest, has the reputation for being the best sign reader in baseball. He has an uncanny knack of detecting certain peculiarities of pitchers which serve as give-away signs when those pitchers are preparing to throw a curve, fast ball or whatever.

As a member of the Yankees from 1954 through 1962, one of Turley's main functions was to sit on the bench and observe the pitchers, not only those of the enemy but all the pitchers wearing Yankee uniforms. At one time or another, he spotted give away signs by virtually all of the Yankee pitchers, habits which they immediately strove to eliminate.

"Our first meeting should prove quite interesting," mused Turley, who is as adept at stealing signs as he is of reading them. "I know this... there'll be three or four guys on the Yankees I'll worry the pants off."

According to Turley, Ford, the great Yankee southpaw, calls his own pitches instead of taking signs from the catcher.

Third Bout With Fullmer Faces Tiger

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Gene Fulmer remains unfinished business for middleweight champion Dick Tiger today—but settlement is expected in a big-money match in June.

Figures in the $100,000 bracket are flying as fast as the punches thrown Saturday night in Convention Center where Tiger retained his crown on a draw decision after 15 rounds of battling.

Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, who lost his title to Tiger in San Francisco last Oct. 23, declared, "I'm ready for the rematch. I thought I beat him Saturday night and there's no reason I can't do it again."

Tiger thought he had won. He said he was shocked at Referee Vern Bybee, who scored it a 69-69 draw while judge John Romero scored for Fullmer 70-68. Judge Pat Diskin ruled for Tiger, 71-67. The Associated Press had it even at 70-70 under the Nevada scoring system of five points to the winner of a round and four or less to the loser.

At a news conference Tiger criticized the man who fought him to a standoff.

"He shouldn't use tricks," Tiger said of Fulmer's strategy of jabbing and dancing away. "I am the champion. I'll never use tricks."

Centralia Wins Ross Tournament

Centralia, sparked by senior guard Jack Conley's 28 points romped to a 67-54 victory over Buckskin and the Ross County championship in the new Ellis B. Hatton gymnasium at Chillicothe Saturday.

Kingston downed Southeastern 67-54 in the consolation tilt. Bob Sigler, in his second year as head coach at Centralia High School, was particularly elated over winning the first tournament held in the gymnasium.

Sigler was a graduate of Chillicothe High School and a student of Hatton, the gymnasium's namesake.

Although in only his second year at the helm on the Centralia varsity, he has been at the school for six years and coached the seniors on the team since their junior high years. He was reserve coach before going on to the top job.

"THE BOYS played a real good ball game with very few mistakes. It was strictly a team effort, although Conley was outstanding," Sigler said when reporting the game.

Centralia went on top early, scoring the first two points of the ball game and stayed there all the way.

The score was 17-15 at the end of the first quarter, 32-25 at half-time and 46-36 as the final period started.

Sophomore Glenn Burchwell tallied 16 points for Centralia and Tom Breeden tallied 12.

Both Burchwell and Conley were members of the all tournament team picked by the press and radio covering the tournament. Three members of the Buckskin unit were also named on the ten man team. They were Speakman, Johnson and Buck. The latter two scored 21 and 22 points respectively to pace their schools to the scoring.

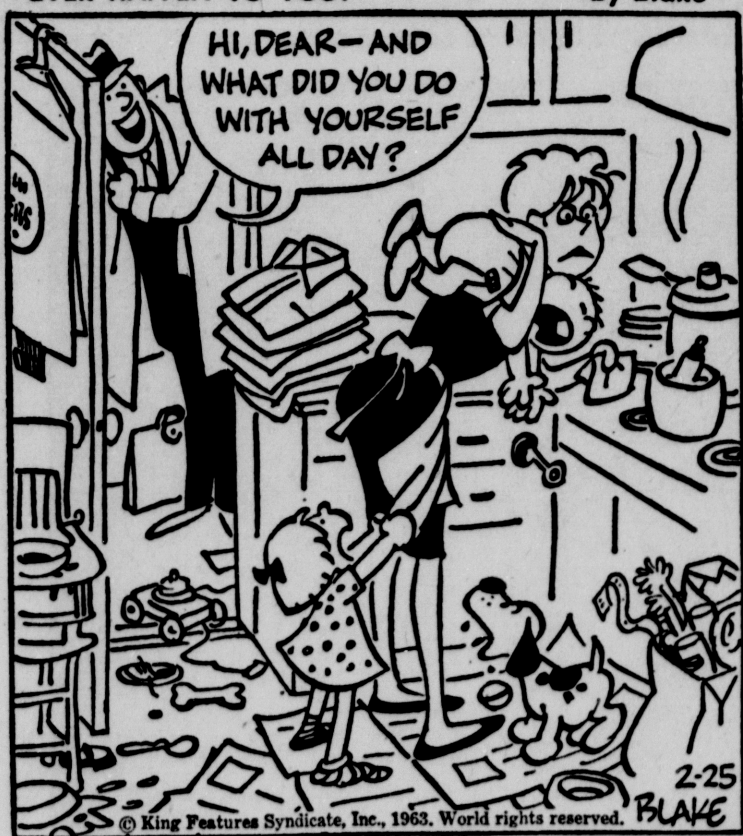

Centralia finished second in the Ross County League and won their own holiday tourney.

The next step on the win or out trail for the Bulldogs is the sectional tournament at Piketon. Three teams from Ross County make the trip. Besides the two county tourney finalists, the county league winner, Paint Valley, participates. Piketon adds one team to the event and Highland County sends two.

List of Challengers Grows, King Cincinnati Is Warned

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati has won its shot at a third consecutive national college basketball championship and the line of challengers to the mighty Bearcats is gradually growing longer.

Arizona State, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and Texas captured conference titles Saturday night with them, automatic berths in the NCAA tournament. In addition, all 10 at-large spots in the coast-to-coast classic have been filled, with Pitt clinching the last one Saturday night.

Still to be settled in the closing two weeks of the regular season are no less than 11 conference races, with NCAA trips contingent upon each.

Arizona State's fourth-ranked Sun Devils won the first Western Athletic Conference title, winning at home against New Mexico 72-62 while Utah was erasing Brigham Young's chances, 106-100 in overtime.

Laker Fans Bark Shins Of Referee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some Los Angeles pro basketball fans apparently aren't content with deriding the referee when their team loses.

Take Sunday night in Los Angeles when the invading Boston Celtics routed the Lakers 119-109 in the National Basketball Association. At halftime with Boston ahead 66-51 some in the crowd of 14,828 trapped referee Norm Drucker near the dressing room. He was mauled and kicked in the shins before rescued by police.

Drucker said he wasn't hurt enough to keep him from officiating in the second half. He had been roundly booed by some Laker rooters because of calls they thought favored the Celtics. In NBA Sunday afternoon games the Detroit Pistons beat the Cincinnati Royals 119-110 at Baltimore, the St. Louis Hawks drubbed the San Francisco Warriors 127-106 and the Syracuse Nats whipped the New York Knicks 143-126. Detroit beat Cincinnati 105-102 and San Francisco downed Chicago 92-88 Saturday night.

The champion Celtics piled up a 30-point lead on the Lakers at 94-64 before Coach Red Auerbach pulled his regulars and Los Angeles scored 16 straight points.

St. Joseph's swept to its fifth straight Middle Atlantic crown with a 66-49 victory over LaSalle, at the Philadelphia Palestra. Texas' 92-76 decision at Southern Methodist and Texas Tech's 74-73 home victory over Rice combined to clinch the Southwest championship for the Longhorns.

Pitt earned the remaining NCAA at-large berth by swamping Penn State 83-67 at Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati, its Missouri Valley title already secure, had a scare at home in a 55-54 squeaker over Tulsa. The top-ranked Bearcats had to come from 14 points back in the second half to get their 21st victory in 22 starts.

Wichita, seventh-ranked and an NIT entry, was topped at Bradley 65-64 in another Missouri Valley game.

Duke's Blue Devils, No. 2 nationally, completed a perfect regular season in the Atlantic Coast Conference rapping North Carolina 106-83. Art Heyman thrilled the home crowd with 40 points and 24 rebounds as Duke won its 15th straight and finished with a 14-0 mark in the ACC.

The Southern Conference also has its three-day tourney beginning Thursday, with regular season champion West Virginia the choice. The Mountaineers crushed George Washington 104-86 Saturday night at West Virginia.

Two NCAA-bound independents in the nation's top ten posted Saturday night victories. Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago got by at Houston 62-58 and 10th-ranked New York University won at St. Francis of New York, 76-62.

Yanks Warned By Ex-Buddy

Turley Set To Steal Signs for Angels

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—This is a warning to Whitey Ford, Ralph Terry and all the New York Yankee pitchers. Better change your mound habits. Bob Turley your former pitching mate, now with Los Angeles, will be there "reading" you the first time the Yankees meet the Angels this year.

Turley, as Manager Ralph Houk and all his Yankees can attest, has the reputation for being the best sign reader in baseball. He has an uncanny knack of detecting certain peculiarities of pitchers which serve as give-away signs when those pitchers are preparing to throw a curve, fast ball or whatever.

As a member of the Yankees from 1954 through 1962, one of Turley's main functions was to sit on the bench and observe the pitchers, not only those of the enemy but all the pitchers wearing Yankee uniforms. At one time or another, he spotted give away signs by virtually all of the Yankee pitchers, habits which they immediately strove to eliminate.

"Our first meeting should prove quite interesting," mused Turley, who is as adept at stealing signs as he is of reading them. "I know this... there'll be three or four guys on the Yankees I'll worry the pants off."

According to Turley, Ford, the great Yankee southpaw, calls his own pitches instead of taking signs from the catcher.

Third Bout With Fullmer Faces Tiger

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Gene Fulmer remains unfinished business for middleweight champion Dick Tiger today—but settlement is expected in a big-money match in June.

Figures in the $100,000 bracket are flying as fast as the punches thrown Saturday night in Convention Center where Tiger retained his crown on a draw decision after 15 rounds of battling.

Fulmer, of West Jordan, Utah, who lost his title to Tiger in San Francisco last Oct. 23, declared, "I'm ready for the rematch. I thought I beat him Saturday night and there's no reason I can't do it again."

Tiger thought he had won. He said he was shocked at Referee Vern Bybee, who scored it a 69-69 draw while judge John Romero scored for Fulmer 70-68. Judge Pat Diskin ruled for Tiger, 71-67. The Associated Press had it even at 70-70 under the Nevada scoring system of five points to the winner of a round and four or less to the loser.

At a news conference Tiger criticized the man who fought him to a standoff.

"He shouldn't use tricks," Tiger said of Fulmer's strategy of jabbing and dancing away. "I am the champion. I'll never use tricks."

It changes the makeup of the liquor control body from the traditional four-member board to a three-member commission. It also provides for appeals from commission decisions direct to the 10th District (Franklin County) Appellate Court, rather than the Court of Common Pleas.

The legislative week also will see House action Wednesday on a bill to create a state board of regents to oversee operations of the six state universities. A number of changes in the measure made by a subcommittee apparently have made it more palatable to the universities.

Sponsors say the subcommittee changes have removed any danger that the universities would lose authority over management of their internal affairs.

Meanwhile, the House Industry and Labor Committee has scheduled hearings today, Tuesday and Wednesday on measures to re-vamp unemployment compensation laws. The House Commerce and Transportation Committee will continue hearings on administration bill to create an industrial development authority.

K of C Confers Second Degree On 9 Candidates

Nine local Catholic men were initiated into the second degree Knight of Columbus by Hannan Council 5297 yesterday afternoon in the basement of St. Joseph's Church.

George A. Flynn, deputy of District 65, served as grand knight for the ceremony. Joseph Anderson, of Flaget Council 1071, Chillicothe, also served on the degree team with the remainder made up of the local council.

Receiving the second degree were Steve L. Brudzinski, Lawrence E. Dietrich, Richard Fullen, Joseph F. Goode Jr., Paul J. Hang Jr., Norman MacNeil, Charles Morris Jr., Harold E. Nagel and John F. O'Brien.

CCA Employee Named To OFI Committee

Nathan M. Fouch, an employee of the Container Corporation of America, has been named to the Ohio Forest Industries Committee of American Forest Product Industries along with several other Ohio men associated with the paper industry.

W. H. Hildebrand of The Mead Corporation, Chillicothe, was named chairman of the committee in its program of education and information of forests and their utilization.

3 Circleville Wrestlers Set For District

Circleville High School's wrestling team placed three men in the Central District wrestling tournament slated Friday and Saturday at Franklin Heights.

Earning berths in the meet are Tim Mogan, Dever Jolly and Howard Fletcher.

Mogan is a defending district champion. Jolly was a runnerup last year.

Fletcher is termed by Tiger grappling mentor, Dave La Bounty, as the most improved member of the squad this year. He pinned Komouch of Bishop Hartley in three minutes Saturday to gain the finals.

JOLLY ALSO registered a pin, taking Lowe of Walnut Ridge to the mat in 2:35. Mogan decisioned Tim Wagnen of Hartley, 5-2.

In other matches involving Red and Black grapplers, Charlie Martin, a sophomore with a lot of promise, was pinned by Jim Hal-loway of Pleasant View with 3:45 gone.

Tom Bivens lost by default in his match. He had wrestled to a scoreless deadlock in the first period but received a deep cut over his eye.

The attending physician at recommended Bivens should not finish the match.

The attending physician re-scheduled for Friday night at Franklin Heights. The semifinals will be held Saturday afternoon and the finals Saturday night.

Rising Local

raising proposals were being considered seriously in 33 states.

Last year's reprieve, says the foundation, "was by all indications the lull before the storm and not the beginning of any trend." It predicts: "The storm is likely to break in 1963, when scores of major tax proposals are expected to appear on legislative agendas."

The foundation's survey identified specific proposals totaling about $1.7 billion of new state revenues but dollar estimates were not available, or were available only in part, for 18 of the 33 states.

Since then, governors' budget messages and other state legislative proposals have filled in some gaps. It now appears that the grand total of pending proposals would exceed $2.5 billion, most of which would be felt in calendar 1964.

Such a total would mean offsetting Kennedy's second-year reductions to almost the same considerable extent as this year's federal tax relief would be offset by the Social Security and postal rate increases.

Corn Clinic Series Slated

Corn growers interested in using chemicals for more profitable corn production are urged to attend a forthcoming series of Geigy Corn Clinics.

The first in the series of meetings will be held 8 p. m. March 7, in the Teays Valley High School auditorium.

These clinics have become important to corn growers who wish to exchange ideas and meet with farm chemical specialists. This year's series of clinics will be held in more than 600 communities, 350 more than last year.

Use of safe chemicals to increase corn yields and lower production costs is fast becoming the standard growing practice. At the clinics, farm chemical specialists will discuss the basic principles of chemical weed control, how to get the most out of each herbicide dollar, how long chemicals are effective in the soil, how to apply weed killers for best results and many other topics.

A question and answer period will follow the program. In answering questions, the specialists will draw on experiences from all major corn growing areas of the United States as well as on local results.

Harsha Reports

U.S. Is Urged To Uphold All Provisions of Monroe Doctrine

William H. Harsha, 6th Ohio District Congressman, today introduced a resolution calling for the restatement and full implementation of the Monroe Doctrine.

The resolution calls upon the United States, bilaterally or unilaterally, to take whatever steps necessary to rid the hemisphere of the Castro Communist threat.

"The proof is in the pudding," he said, "and surely after the shrimp boat incident even the egg heads in the State Department should be convinced that whether a weapon is offensive or defensive is determined solely by the state of mind or intent of the individual controlling the weapon."

Harsha said, "the evidence is conclusive that Cuba is a Communist outpost from which dedicated efforts are being effected to subvert the Western Hemisphere."

Harsha pointed out that Khrushchev, at a recent meeting of the Supreme Soviet, stated: "Socialist Cuba exists. Cuban remains a beacon of Marxist, Leninist ideas in the Western Hemisphere. The impact of her revolutionary example will grow. The government of the United States has given a pledge not to invade Cuba."

Congressman Harsha stated "that the United States is spending hundreds of millions of dollars and risking American lives daily in an effort to halt communism in Viet-Nam, yet our effort to combat that same menace within throwing distance of our own shores is very feeble."

He said, "the recent OAS Security Committee report indicates that Russia, through its bastion of operation in Cuba, has given orders for unremitting subversive pressure against Latin-America."

The presence of approximately 14 training camps for saboteurs, subversive and infiltration agents is confirmed in the report," he said.

Harsha noted: "This all constitutes a very grave threat to the security of the United States and the entire Western Hemisphere. My resolution clearly restates the Monroe Doctrine as being the policy of the United States and any attempts on the part of a Communist country to extend its system to any portion of this hemisphere is dangerous to our peace and safety. The resolution urges the President to take jointly with other free nations or unilaterally, such political, diplomatic, economic or military action as may be necessary to fully implement and enforce the Monroe Doctrine throughout this hemisphere."

The Ohio Congressman concluded that the American people are fed up with the futile policy of spending billions of dollars in foreign aid ostensibly to defeat and combat communism throughout the world and at the same time assuring the Communists of a base of operations in Cuba from which to enhance their activities.

"If the defeat of Communism is a valid reason for spending billions in foreign aid, then certainly that same reason is ample justification for implementing the Monroe Doctrine, to say nothing of the protection of our own freedom," he said.

The efforts of nearly half a million men were required to dig the Panama Canal.

It changes the makeup of the liquor control body from the traditional four-member board to a three-member commission. It also provides for appeals from commission decisions direct to the 10th District (Franklin County) Appellate Court, rather than the Court of Common Pleas.

The legislative week also will see House action Wednesday on a bill to create a state board of regents to oversee operations of the six state universities. A number of changes in the measure made by a subcommittee apparently have made it more palatable to the universities.

Sponsors say the subcommittee changes have removed any danger that the universities would lose authority over management of their internal affairs.

Meanwhile, the House Industry and Labor Committee has scheduled hearings today, Tuesday and Wednesday on measures to re-employment compensation laws. The House Commerce and Transportation Committee will continue hearings on administration bill to create an industrial development authority.

K of C Confers Second Degree On 9 Candidates

Nine local Catholic men were initiated into the second degree Knight of Columbus by Hannan Council 5297 yesterday afternoon in the basement of St. Joseph's Church.

George A. Flynn, deputy of District 65, served as grand knight for the ceremony. Joseph Anderson, of Flaget Council 1071, Chillicothe, also served on the degree team with the remainder made up of the local council.

Receiving the second degree were Steve L. Brudzinski, Lawrence E. Dietrich, Richard Fullen, Joseph F. Goode Jr., Paul J. Hang Jr., Norman MacNeil, Charles Morris Jr., Harold E. Nagel and John F. O'Brien.

CCA Employee Named To OFI Committee

Nathan M. Fouch, an employee of the Container Corporation of America, has been named to the Ohio Forest Industries Committee of American Forest Product Industries along with several other Ohio men associated with the paper industry.

W. H. Hildebrand of The Mead Corporation, Chillicothe, was named chairman of the committee in its program of education and information of forests and their utilization.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bands and singers from 11 Cincinnati Roman Catholic high schools drew more than 5,000 people to Cincinnati Gardens Sunday. It was the third annual Catholic High School Festival of Music.

3 Circleville Wrestlers Set For District

Circleville High School's wrestling team placed three men in the Central District wrestling tournament slated Friday and Saturday at Franklin Heights.

Earning berths in the meet are Tim Mogan, Dever Jolly and Howard Fletcher.

Mogan is a defending district champion. Jolly was a runnerup last year.

Fletcher is termed by Tiger grappling mentor, Dave La Bounty, as the most improved member of the squad this year. He pinned Komouch of Bishop Hartley in three minutes Saturday to gain the finals.

JOLLY ALSO registered a pin, taking Lowe of Walnut Ridge to the mat in 2:35. Mogan decisioned Tim Wagnen of Hartley, 5-2.

In other matches involving Red and Black grapplers, Charlie Martin, a sophomore with a lot of promise, was pinned by Jim Hallway of Pleasant View with 3:45 gone.

Tom Bivens lost by default in his match. He had wrestled to a scoreless deadlock in the first period but received a deep cut over his eye.

The attending physician at recommended Bivens should not finish the match.

The attending physician rescheduled for Friday night at Franklin Heights. The semifinals will be held Saturday afternoon and the finals Saturday night.

raising proposals were being considered seriously in 33 states.

Last year's reprieve, says the foundation, "was by all indications the lull before the storm and not the beginning of any trend."

It predicts: "The storm is likely to break in 1963, when scores of major tax proposals are expected to appear on legislative agendas."

The foundation's survey identified specific proposals totaling about $1.7 billion of new state revenues but dollar estimates were not available, or were available only in part, for 18 of the 33 states.

Since then, governors' budget messages and other state legislative proposals have filled in some gaps. It now appears that the grand total of pending proposals would exceed $2.5 billion, most of which would be felt in calendar 1964.

Such a total would mean offsetting Kennedy's second-year reductions to almost the same considerable extent as this year's federal tax relief would be offset by the Social Security and postal rate increases.

Nail Causes One Of Five Injuries

A rusty nail was the cause of injury for one person who received emergency treatment at Berger Hospital during the weekend. Five persons were treated and released.

Mitch Martin, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Martin, Route 3, stepped on a rusty nail and suffered a puncture wound to his left foot. Bobby Cassidy, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cassidy, 829½ Atwater Ave.; burned his left hand on a floor furnace.

Martha Riffe, 21, Route 3, injured a finger of her left hand while working at Lincoln Molded Plastics Inc.

Forrest Tootle, 22, 706 Clinton St., was bitten by his dog while attempting to take him to a veterinary.

Thomas Bivens, 16, 451 E. Watt St., received a laceration to his forehead while wrestling in a tournament at Whitehall.

Corn Clinic Series Slated

Corn growers interested in using chemicals for more profitable corn production are urged to attend a forthcoming series of Geigy Corn Clinics.

The first in the series of meetings will be held 8 p. m. March 7, in the Teays Valley High School auditorium.

These clinics have become important to corn growers who wish to exchange ideas and meet with farm chemical specialists. This year's series of clinics will be held in more than 600 communities, 350 more than last year.

Use of safe chemicals to increase corn yields and lower production costs is fast becoming the standard growing practice. At the clinics, farm chemical specialists will discuss the basic principles of chemical weed control, how to get the most out of each herbicide dollar, how long chemicals are effective in the soil, how to apply weed killers for best results and many other topics.

A question and answer period will follow the program. In answering questions, the specialists will draw on experiences from all major corn growing areas of the United States as well as on local results.

BG Enrollment Up

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Bowling Green State University reports on-campus enrollment of 6,856 students for the second semester, up 9.7 per cent from a year ago.

Marine Lance Corporal Ralph E. Neff, son of Charles F. Neff, Ashville, learned embarkation and debarkation procedures recently with other members of the Third Battalion of the First Marine Regiment at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Curtis Swackhammer, fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swackhammer, 114 W. Mill St., is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, currently on deployment to the Mediterranean with the Sixth Fleet.

The nuclear-powered Enterprise is the nucleus of a fast carrier striking force within the fleet. She will visit several Southern European seaports during her operations.

Marine Sgt. Charles R. Wroblewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wroblewski, Kingston, is serving with the 30th Marine Expeditionary Unit engaged in amphibious landing exercises in Caribbean.

THE 2,000-man landing force recently staged an amphibious training assault against beaches at Vieques, Puerto Rico.

Carl E. Lynn, USN, son of Mrs. Grace Lynn, Route 1, Ashville, is serving aboard the guided missile destroyer USS John King, which has joined the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Harsha Reports

U.S. Is Urged To Uphold All Provisions of Monroe Doctrine

William H. Harsha, 6th Ohio District Congressman, today introduced a resolution calling for the restatement and full implementation of the Monroe Doctrine.

The resolution calls upon the United States, bilaterally or unilaterally, to take whatever steps necessary to rid the hemisphere of the Castro Communist threat.

"The proof is in the pudding," he said, "and surely after the shrimp boat incident even the egg heads in the State Department should be convinced that whether a weapon is offensive or defensive is determined solely by the state of mind or intent of the individual controlling the weapon."

Harsha said, "the evidence is conclusive that Cuba is a Communist outpost from which dedicated efforts are being effected to subvert the Western Hemisphere."

Harsha pointed out that Khrushchev, at a recent meeting of the Supreme Soviet, stated: "Socialist Cuba exists. Cuban remains a beacon of Marxist, Leninist ideas in the Western Hemisphere. The impact of her revolutionary example will grow. The government of the United States has given a pledge not to invade Cuba."

Congressman Harsha stated "that the United States is spending hundreds of millions of dollars and risking American lives daily in an effort to halt communism in Viet-Nam, yet our effort to combat that same menace within throwing distance of our own shores is very feeble."

He said, "the recent OAS Security Committee report indicates that Russia, through its bastion of operation in Cuba, has given orders for unremitting subversive pressure against Latin-America. The presence of approximately 14 training camps for saboteurs, subversive and infiltration agents is confirmed in the report," he said.

Harsha noted: "This all constitutes a very grave threat to the security of the United States and the entire Western Hemisphere. My resolution clearly restates the Monroe Doctrine as being the policy of the United States and any attempts on the part of a Communist country to extend its system to any portion of this hemisphere is dangerous to our peace and safety. The resolution urges the President to take jointly with other free nations or unilaterally, such political, diplomatic, economic or military action as may be necessary to fully implement and enforce the Monroe Doctrine throughout this hemisphere."

The Ohio Congressman concluded that the American people are fed up with the futile policy of spending billions of dollars in foreign aid ostensibly to defeat and combat communism throughout the world and at the same time assuring the Communists of a base of operations in Cuba from which to enhance their activities.

"If the defeat of Communism is a valid reason for spending billions in foreign aid, then certainly that same reason is ample justification for implementing the Monroe Doctrine, to say nothing of the protection of our own freedom," he said.

The efforts of nearly half a million men were required to dig the Panama Canal.
